With high school and perhaps junior college way behind now, the exhilaration and depression of leaving home foreshadow ups and downs of a new existence in a campus environment. The change presents a new package of experiences. We do things here we will never do again. There are people, places, and events at USM that we expect to recall vividly, but by the end of the year a few may begin to drift out of focus . . .

Perhaps the most important things students learn about in college isn't $E=mc^2$ but is life . . . the answer can never be found outside, but only in inside oneself. When one reaches the center, one discovers he is not alone, he is a part of everyone.

For everything that changes, countless things don't. The walk from the bottom of the Johnson Science Tower to Elam commuter parking lot still takes 10 minutes. The elevators in the technology building still occasionally mess up. As usual the trees turn color just in time for Homecoming and Halloween . . .

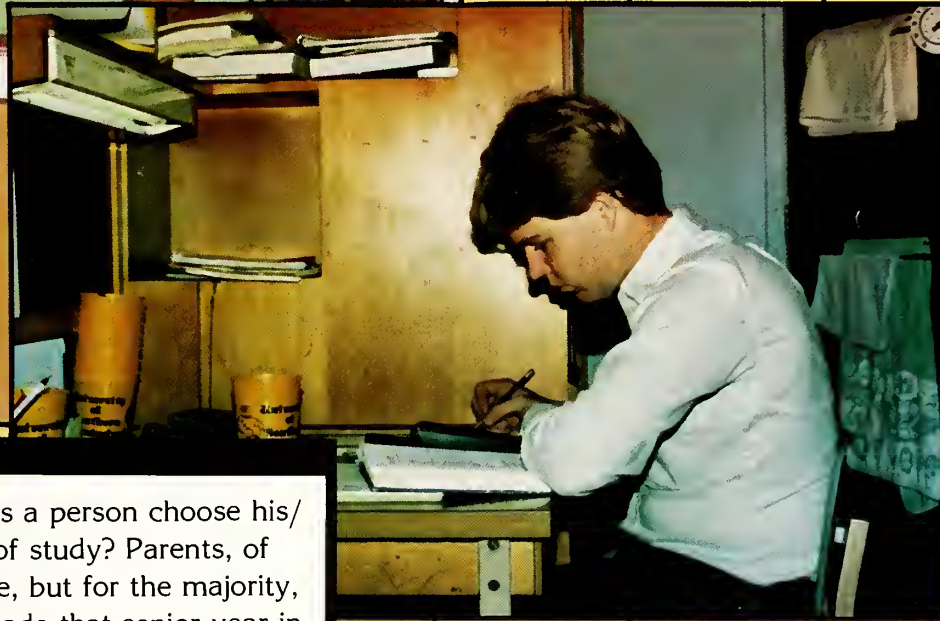

It's still hard to find a parking place close to class except on the weekends when suitcasing empties the lots or at 7:00 a.m. Each Tuesday and Thursday stacks of The Student Printz are distributed and read by students. It's the little things, the constants that never change.

What makes a person choose his/her field of study? Parents, of course influence, but for the majority, decisions are made that senior year in high school. It could be a special teacher, or class, or just a special feeling about what one chooses his/her vocation to be. In any event—it usually hits a person all at once.

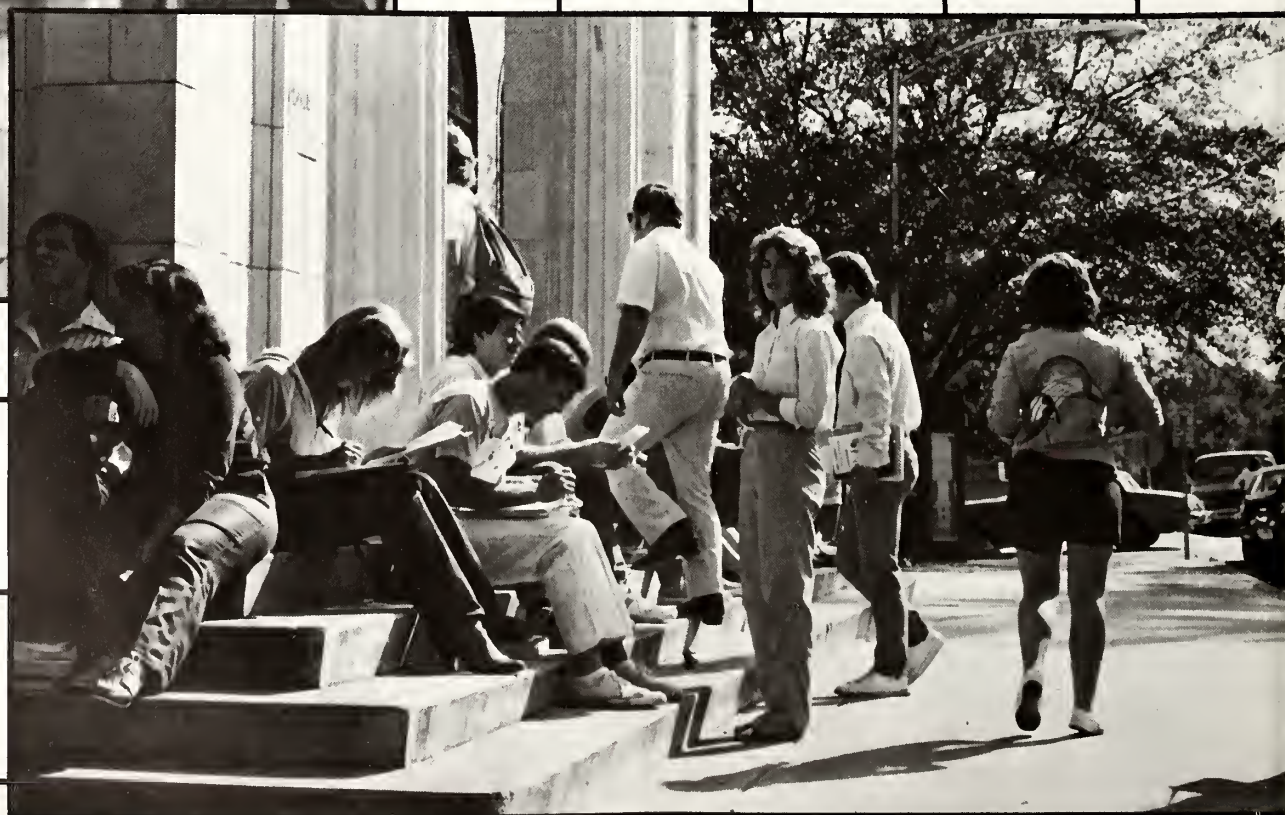

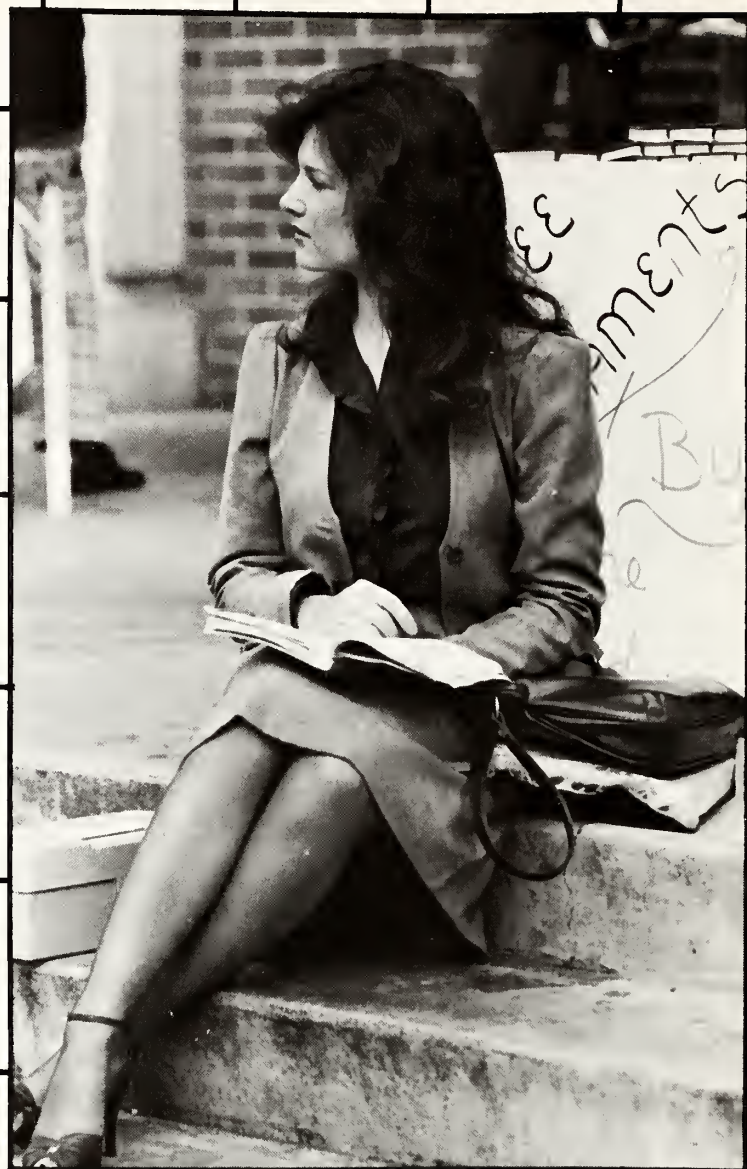

From coastal beaches, urban boulevards, and rural farming areas students filter into the Hattiesburg community. But geographic backgrounds are not the only differing characteristics. Each USM collegiate varies in attitudes, activities, even attire.

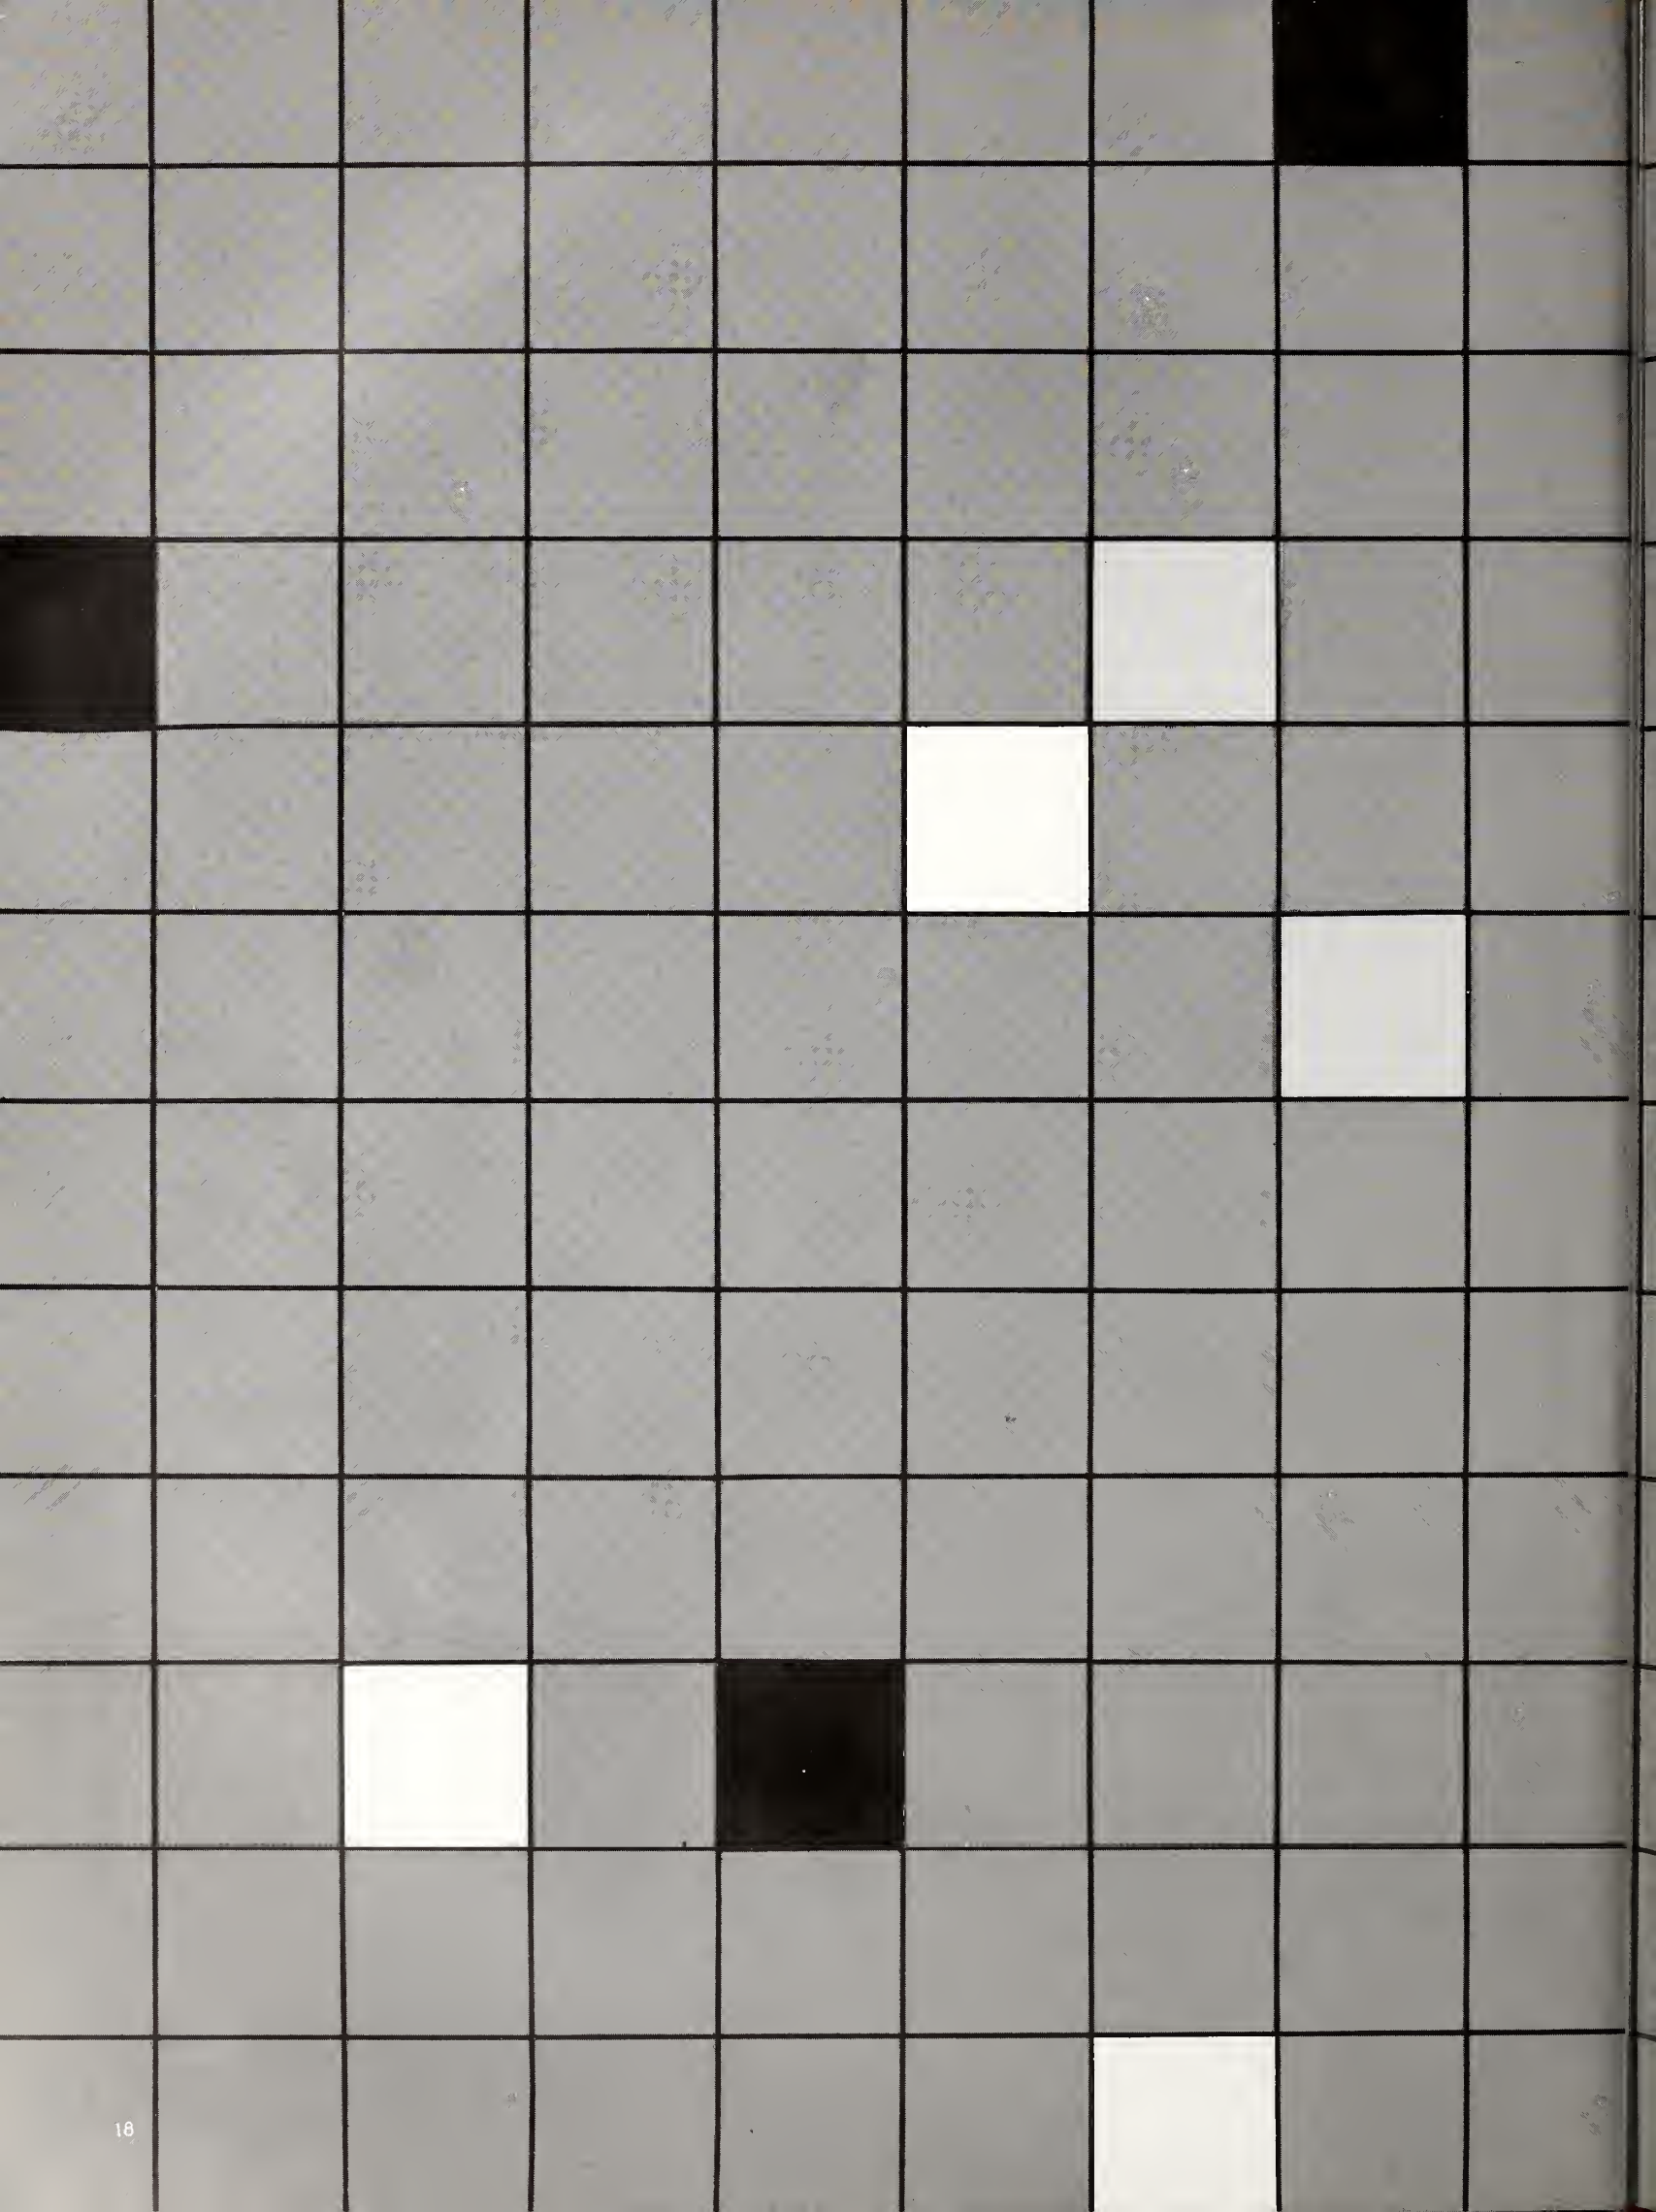

Whether a confused freshman, an older student returning, or the confident, yet reluctant upperclassman, approaching the end of the academic tunnel; USM students are linked by a common bond—Eagle Fever.

Hubbing it—before classes, between classes, after class.
Connected to the Student Union Building, the front steps of the Hub attract more students than just about any other area on campus.

This academic year marks Aubrey K. Lucas' 30th year of association with the University of Southern Mississippi.

Entering school here in 1952 after graduating from State Line High, Lucas received his undergraduate degree in elementary education with a minor in history. He completed his masters in the psychology of reading in 1956 while servicing as assistant director of the reading clinic.

Other positions Lucas has held includes director of admissions, 1957-1963, registrar, 1963-1969, and dean of the graduate school, 1969-1971.

Though Lucas taught reading at Hinds Junior College for one year, worked on his doctorate at Florida State University for 18 months and served as president of Delta State University for four years, he says he was still closely associated with the University. "While I was at Hinds I was preparing students to come here, and when I was off at graduate school, I was on leave from the University, and when I was at Delta State, I was in close contact with the University and Dr. McCain during monthly meetings with the Board of Trustees."

Between two and three thousand students were enrolled at USM while Lucas attended. He says with the smaller numbers, students knew each other and had closer relationships with the faculty. Lucas lived in Forrest County Hall, went to class in Southern and College Halls and studied in the library then located in the present Student Services building.

"I remember a lot of faculty interest and encouragement and even nurture", says Lucas.

Lucas still feels that teaching is the primary responsibility of the University and is working toward having the best prepared, most competent, best paid faculty in our state because "the faculty make an institution." In the term "faculty" Lucas includes those "support personnel" in the computer center, library, registrar's office, counseling, etc. "They teach in this institution though they may not be doing so in the classroom", says Lucas.

Lucas' future goals for USM includes greatly improved learning support services such as the library, teaching equipment, the Teaching Learning Resource Center and the language laboratories which Lucas says "are now as important to learning as our books." Lucas also mentions the physical plant as a priority.

In his seventh year as president, Lucas has many responsibilities he must deal with: budgeting, staffing, reviewing curriculum, and maintaining public relations which Lucas defines as "interpreting the University's purposes to many publics." Lucas says it is his responsibility to see that the University is organized properly.

In addition to his duties as president, Lucas also serves as chairman of the Mississippi Arts Commission and the Mississippi Economic Commission. He is also a lay leader of the Mississippi Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. He has been nominated to serve on the board of directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Thirty Years and a Southern Tradition

by Susan Wolfe

"A president must serve in these offices to relate his institution to those agencies", says Lucas, and this is just one way he "spreads the word" about USM.

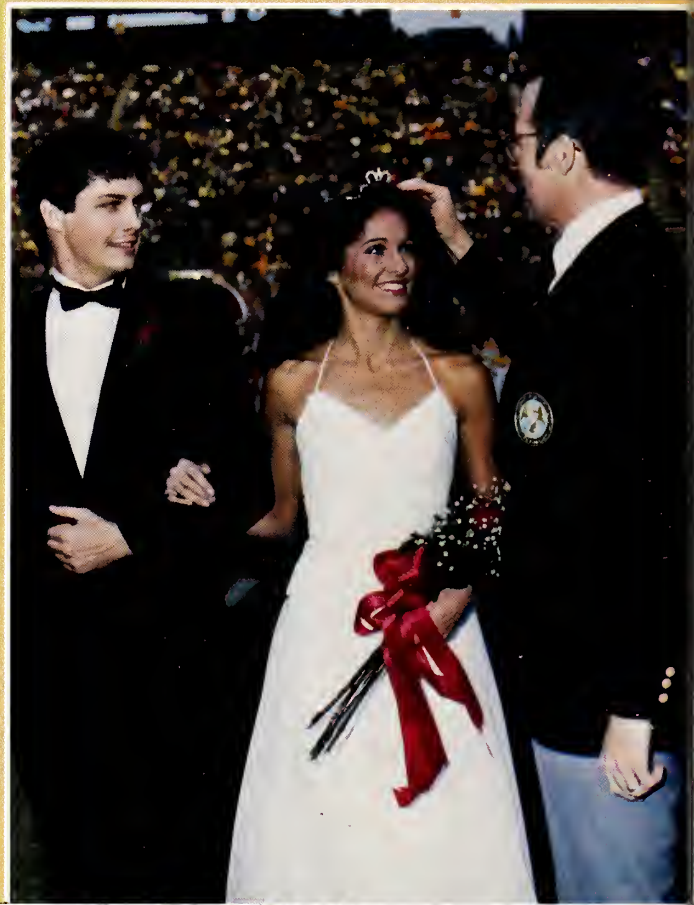

The Lucas family has apparently heard it. Besides his wife, two brothers and one sister who are graduates of the University, Lucas' mother returned to receive her degree in the 1960's. Currently, Lucas has two children, two neices and two nephews attending USM as well as cousins and other distant relatives. Lucas says Sundays at his home are like family reunions with everybody coming over for a "home cooked" meal. So after spending over half his life in association with the University it seems that President Lucas' family is following his Southern Tradition.

College of Business Administration

Administrators in our increasingly complex society are constantly facing new and challenging problems. The College of Business Administration trains problem solvers in the departments of Accounting, Economics, Finance and General Business, Management, and Marketing, offering specializations in each area.

Several unique features of the school are the new School of Professional Accountancy, which offers MS and MBA degrees, and our modern graduate program in Telecommunications Management. All students are provided with a liberal arts education for the first two years to obtain the necessary qualities for personal wellbeing and adjustment to a changing society. They are then exposed to a wide variety of business knowledge and finally are given the opportunity to specialize in the area of their choice.

College of Education and Psychology

USM began as a teachers college in 1910 when the University was known as Mississippi Normal College. Today, USM is still considered as one of the best teachers colleges in the South. The College of Education and Psychology believes it is their duty to train teachers to be creative and informed educators.

Students in the teacher certification program receive practical training in their field of specialization. Teacher education graduates who feel that their talents can best be utilized in non-teaching human service fields leave USM well-equipped with the necessary attitudes and skills to acquire jobs outside the classroom. Career opportunities are limitless for both teaching and non-teaching degrees from USM.

College of Fine Arts

Southern's College of Fine Arts is one of the most respected in the South. USM, with its large Fine Arts faculty, strives to prepare students for professional or teaching careers in one of the many branches of art, music, or theatre.

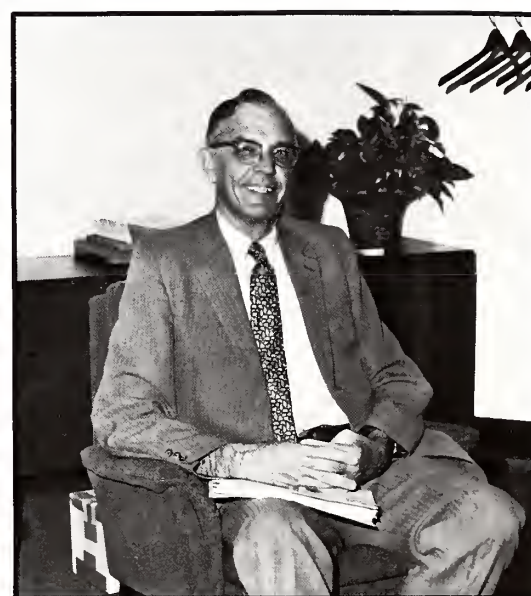

The department of music features a professional recording studio and thousands of records and tapes in a comprehensive music library. Students in this department are trained to be creative conductors, composers, musicians, and singers.

Theatre majors are amazed by the diversity of activity in their field covering everything from construction of props to producing and directing.

The art department is devoted to teaching fine art and graphic communications concepts and stresses extensive practical training. The USM art gallery features at least eight shows annually

School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation

The primary purpose of the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is to educate future leaders in the fields of athletic administration and coaching, health, physical education, and recreation. Also of equal importance is the coordination of the physical education activity course program, intramural activities, extramural sports clubs, and the recreational equipment loan service. The school is also responsible for coordination the required physical education activity program and the intramural recreation sports program for the university.

There are five departments in the school of HPR. They are Athletic Administration and Coaching, Health and Safety Education, Physical Education, Recreation, and Intramural Recreational Sports.

School of Home Economics

The School of Home Economics places great emphasis on careers that improve the quality of life. The four departments consist of Environmental Design, Family of Life Services, Institutional Administration, and Home Economics Education, all of which offer several degree programs.

USM has tried to develop the best programs available in all majors. For example, the undergraduate degree in Dietetics is accredited by the American Dietetic Association, thereby saving the students a year of institutional internship. The Hotel and Restaurant Management Administration program involves extensive co-op training, which gives USM students invaluable practical experience as well as job opportunities. If your specialty is Environmental Design, you will enjoy the annual field trip to the Market in Dallas and begin one step ahead of other new buyers when you start working. And the Interior Design department is growing fast, with new faculty and equipment being added every year.

The field of Home Economics is expanding for men as well as women, and graduates leave USM knowing what is happening now.

Honors College

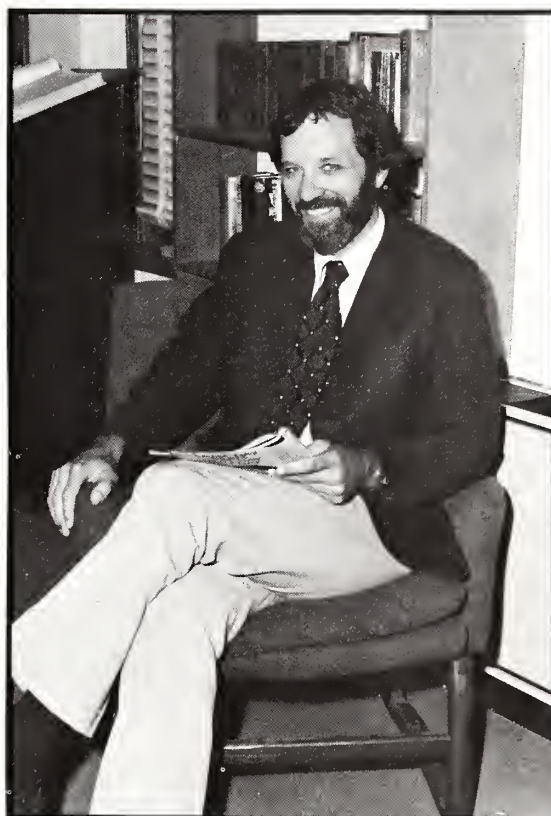

The Honors College has been established to challenge USM's highly intellectual students to achieve their full potential and to reward their achievements with honors upon graduation. Invitation to membership in the Honors College is extended by the University Honors Council on the basis of high grades, ACT scores, personal recommendations, interviews, and an extemporaneous essay.

Honors College students may choose any major field of study offered by the University, replacing the regular core curriculum with the Honors Core and adding independent study and research projects and electives.

As a special service to the entire University and community, the Honors College sponsors the University program series, which consists of a lecture series by nationally known speakers, outstanding films, panels and other enrichment programs. The series is available to all students for up to 12 hours of credit.

School of Library Service

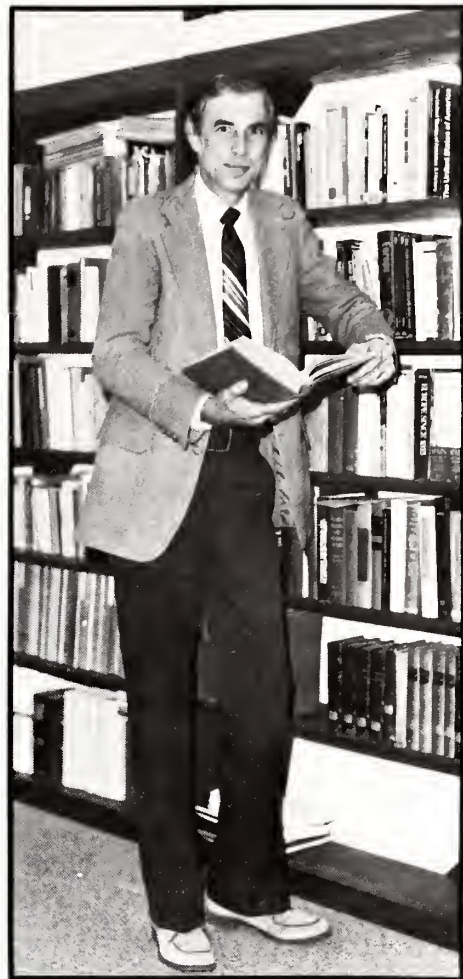

Contemporary librarianship is everything from small town librarians, who lovingly dispense their materials, to highly specialized bibliographers in all types of industry and government work. The School of Library Service offers teaching and non-teaching degree programs at the Bachelor's and Master's level. USM encourages students to specialize in any major before beginning their library training, since library science is basically and realistically a combination field.

USM Students learn to select, organize, and manage films and filmstrips, maps, and audio-visual and computerized equipment as well as all types of printed materials. USM encourages practical experiences through student attendance of conferences, field trips through large libraries of all types, and of course, thorough knowledge of our own USM facilities.

Exciting careers in Library Science are enjoyed by extremely talented men and women who are being well paid in their specialized fields.

College of Liberal Arts

A liberal Arts education widens the horizons and broadens the prospective of a student and encourages him to serve both society and their own self-interests productively and responsibly.

In the College of Liberal Arts many departments are involved in research and are funded by both public and private agencies. The Criminal Justice, Speech and Hearing, Geography, and Area Development departments are supported to a large extent by these grants. The grants make jobs available for students in their individual fields. USM offers many special and unique features in the College of Liberal Arts, such as the Creative Writing Center, where full time professors are available to help students create and publish their work.

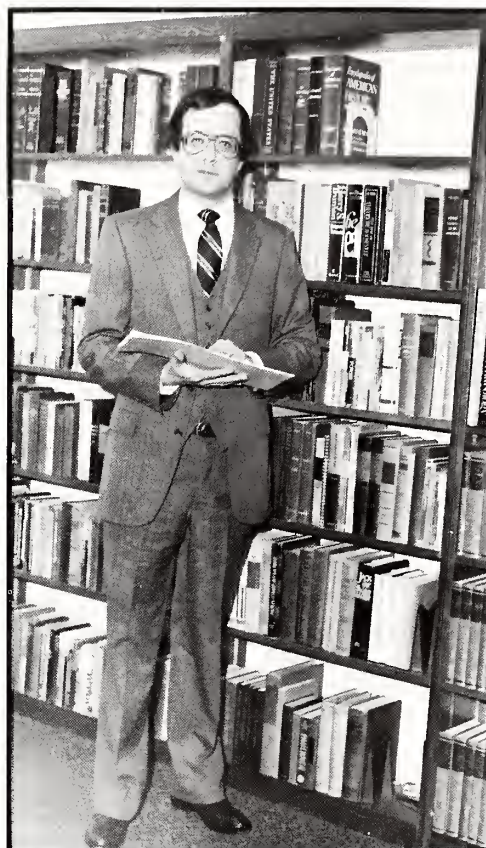

A Liberal Arts degree assures students of a well-rounded education which will allow them to pursue a career in any specialized field.

School of Nursing

The School of Nursing and USM is nationally accredited and looked upon as one of the best training programs in the South. Nursing students receive excellent medical training and learn the importance of the patient self-care concept.

Through the use of the Skills Laboratory, students are taught practical nursing procedures. The curriculum combines all phases of the nursing field into practical learning and training situations.

At the Learning Center facilities, students can videotape themselves and their peers at work. By studying pre-recorded lectures and demonstrations, students are also able to gain an indepth understanding of the field of nursing outside the classroom.

Graduates receive a BS in nursing and are eligible to take the State Board of Nursing Examination to become an RN. USM students find the nursing field rewarding and exciting.

College of Science and Technology

For 15 years the College of Science and Technology has worked hard to achieve the objectives of excellence in teaching, research and service. USM's department has a young, but superior faculty and the most modern facilities. They are dedicated to helping solve the problems of today's world in all scientific areas.

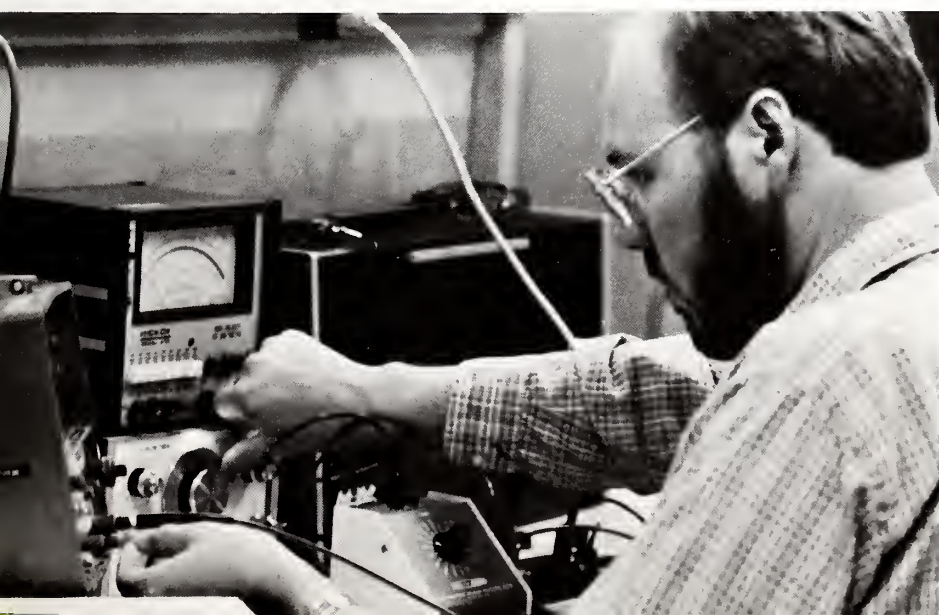

The college offers a combination of traditional programs in science and technology and mathematics. There are 12 departments, 20 different majors, and 10 pre-professional programs available in this college. Some of their special features include learning labs, co-op programs, and student-assisted research projects.

Curriculum remains up to date, practical, and pertinent due to the industry advisory board. Graduates of USM in the College of Science and Technology are successful in careers throughout the world in all areas of science and technology.

Gary Wildman, Dean

School of Social Work

The Graduate school of Social Work at USM is fully accredited and offers the only MSW degree in the state of Mississippi. The School of Social Work prepares students for service to individuals, families, groups, and communities.

USM offers three separate programs in the department of Social Work and they are regular, accelerated, and part-time. Students spend a good deal of their time working in social agencies because the curriculum is competency-based and practice oriented.

The USM program is dedicated to training students to help with significant social programs among various groups of people.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

Iota Kappa Chapter

On January 15, 1908, a group of young women at Howard University caught the inspiration of a fellow student, Ethel Hedgeman Lyle, and initiated the movement in formulating the first greek letter sorority among Black women in America—Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. About 67 years later, the ladies of Iota Kappa Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha debuted on the USM campus under the leadership and guidance of Shirley Green Mays. This, too, was another first for AKA, since Iota Kappa Chapter, the first Black Greek Organization, paved the way for other Black Greek organizations to be established on the USM campus.

High ethical standards, good scholarship, leadership, and graciousness are but a few of the many qualities that the ladies in Salmon Pink and Apple Green are recognized by. Since the sorority's founding in 1908, AKA has strived to reach one major goal—to be of "service to all mankind." This can be readily seen in AKA's contribution to the NAACP, United Negro College Fund, scholarships, National Kidney Foundation, and numerous others. AKA, the epitome of womanhood, definitely the best, so why settle for the rest!

Alpha Phi Alpha is the oldest and one of the largest Black Greek organizations. The fraternity was founded on the Cornell University Campus December 4, 1906. Our founders foresaw the great need for organizing a fraternity to provide opportunities for college men to band together and assist each other to grow and develop.

Spring semester of 1982 bestowed many honors upon Mu Xi chapter: for instance Greek Athlete Award and the Greek Community Award. Keeping in fashion with Alpha Phi Alpha tradition of community services, the following is a list of community activities we participated in: March of Dimes Tel-A-Thon, Mobile Street Clean-Up Campaign, annual Black and Gold Pageant, and many more social and cultural societies. Alphas are active in ASB, UAC, Southern Style, USM athletics, Student Judicial Council just to name a few. We also have members who say that "not all great men are Alphas, but all Alphas are great men!"

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

Beta Delta Chapter

The Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha has been on U.S.M.'s campus since 1938. Forty-five years later, we are a chapter that is rapidly reorganizing. In our growth, we have obtained individuality with each new girl that enters into our sisterhood. Alpha Sigma Alpha sisters are participating throughout campus in Modeling Squad, Honors College, Kappa Kappa Psi, Chi Tau Epsilon, L'Espritde Corps, Scabbard and Blade, Kappa Delta Pi, Band, Flag Corps, and Army ROTC.

Alpha Sigma Alpha's four aims, which are spiritual, social, intellectual, and physical, are fulfilled by such activities as Chapter Church, Halloween parties, Wine and Cheese parties, Spring Formal, Workshops, Study Halls, Greek Games, and intramurals. Big Sis-Little Sis, Secret Sis, Candlelights, and Roomates are just some of the elements that help create a close knit sisterhood for the enthusiastic ladies of Alpha Sigma Alpha.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Epsilon Upsilon Chapter

The Epsilon Upsilon chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity was installed November 19, 1949 and is one of the oldest fraternities on campus. ATO's are involved in all aspects of campus life including the Baptist Student Union, ASB—President Ken Stribling, ASB Senators, Omicron Delta Epsilon—President Chris Smilek, Lambda Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Honors College, Phi Eta Sigma, American Marketing Association, Golden Eagle Cheerleaders, and Air Force ROTC. Many ATO's are involved in other Greek organizations such as Anchor Man, Anchor Brother, Arrow Men, Turtle Men, and Sigma Men. For the fourth year in a row Epsilon Upsilon has won the Omar Nanu Memorial Sports Award and the David E. Dauerhauer Driving Excellence Award. ATO's also have the future Mr. and Miss Olympia—Horse and Dolly. ATO would like to thank Chris Smilek and Mark Chapman for their contributions in making ATO #1 at USM.

DELTA GAMMA

Delta Pi Chapter

Being a Delta Gamma means being active in every sense of the word. Dee Gee's are involved in almost every organization on campus including ASB Senate and Cabinet, UAC, Southern Style, Southerner Staff, Southern Misses, Cheerleaders, Golden Girls, and Gold Tenders. You can spot a Delta Gamma in the Dixie Darling dance line, in The Pride band, as members and leaders of Angel Flight, and as Church Group workers.

Delta Gammas are also active in most honoraries on Southern's campus such as Lambda Sigma, Gamma Beta Phi, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Chi Theta, ACM, Rho Lambda, Phi Delta Rho, SNASM, and they are also Presidents and Dean's list Scholars. Dee Gees are also involved in USM sports with members of the Soccer and Tennis teams.

This year, as every year, Delta Gammas will be working as timers for the Swim Team, hostessing at the Miss Southern Pageant, and working at the Magnolia Classic Golf Tournament. Delta Gamma is proud of its many achievements this year some of which include 1st place in the USM and United Way Penny Drive, 1st place in the Hattiesburg Community Blood Drive, 1st place in many intramural sports, 3rd place in Songfest, and placing in Homecoming Displays. Some of the highlights of Delta Gamma's year are Big Sis- Lil' Sis, Fall Retreat, Fall Party, Christmas Party, Anchor Splash, and of course Anchor Ball!

But most of all, Delta Zeta Happiness is a bond—a bond which cannot be broken by years, miles, or misunderstandings. It is the totality of Love—the Love of every Delta Zeta—Sister for Sister

KAPPA ALPHA ORDER

Gamma Zeta Chapter

A long time ago on a campus far away, Kappa Alpha Order was founded. The winds of time swept the seed of Kappa Alpha here to the University of Southern Mississippi, mecca of art, culture, and higher learning, on January 9th 1949 in the form of Gamma Zeta chapter. Since its inception, the men of Kappa Alpha, while dwelling in their Mansion, home of southern gentlemen, haven of scholars, and lodging of sorority gods, have taken a paramount role in the artistic, academic, athletic, cultural, governmental, intramural, and social developments. The tides of fate are clear, Kappa Alpha shall remain a vital cog in the mystic orb of collegiate life.

KAPPA SIGMA

Epsilon Nu Chapter

The men of scarlet, white, and green can be found in every area of campus life from student government to the biggest annual party Hattiesburg has ever seen. Kappa Sigma swept to victory in Senate elections with five senators including the President Pro Tempore. The Interfraternity Council has also felt the presence of Kappa Sigma in the last year with brothers holding the offices of Vice-President, Treasurer, and Individual Board members. Brothers also held many positions in student government including Executive Assistant to the President, Attorney General, Assistant Director of Student Services, Director of Student Legal Services, and Assistant Spring Spirit Director. Kappa Sigma showed its flexibility in sports while taking the golf, bowling, and volleyball titles along with second place in Greek Games. Kappa Sig takes the lead again on the social scene with sorority big brothers and the greatest parties including Brown's Bridge, Founder's Day, our incredible Super Bowl Party, and the legendary South Sea Island. Kappa Sigma . . . striving for excellence in every area of student endeavor.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Delta Mu Chapter

The men of Pi Kappa Alpha are constantly assuming an active role on and off campus. In just the first semester of the 1982-1983 school year the Pikes won All-University Bowling, the United Way Volleyball Tournament, Weight lifting and Putt-Putt Golf; made the finals in golf and tennis, the playoffs in volleyball, floorhockey, and half-court basketball, plus placed in body building.

Continuing a tradition of leadership, Pikes can be found holding such positions as IFC Rush Chariman, IFC Scholarship Chariman, ASB Cabinet Officer, and Judicial Board member. Also, Pi Kappa enjoys having Southern Style members, numerous sorority brothers, academic honoraries, Youth Congress Senators, Marshals for the Magnolia Golf Classic, Varsity Athletes, representation in Southern Exposure, the best Little Sister program on campus, the only Fraternity swimming pool at USM, and the privilege of annually publishing a calendar featuring twelve of the most beautiful girls on campus. In other areas the Pikes have received the March of Dimes Award, the Florida State Spirit Award, and began service work for the Ellisville State School.

Being a brother in Pi Kappa Alpha also means participation in an enriched social life. Activities include Dream-girl Formal, Pat O'Brien Party, Florida Party, Toga Party, Hawaiian Party, Greek Games Party, Rush Parties, Pledge-Active Retreat, and many other functions such as swaps or football parties. In other words the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity symbolizes involvement here at USM. Once a Pike, always a Pike.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

USM Colony

The USM Colony of Tau Kappa Epsilon, the world's largest social fraternity with over 275 chapters in the United States and Canada, was colonized on the USM campus in March of 1982. Under the leadership of chapter advisor Earnie Autin, the Tekes received their colony charter from TKE International Headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana on May 15, 1982.

During the spring '82 semester, the Tekes Participated in the March of Dimes Walkathon and received awards for the most money and most participants by an organization. Following the Teke ideal of scholarship, TKE led all fraternities on campus with the highest GPA.

The fall '82 semester saw the Tekes continue their emphasis on public service by selling balloons at the Golden Eagle football games for the Juvenile Diabetes Association and the United Way. TKE also sponsored the Gift of Life Christmas Tree for the United Way, which was the first in the state and only the second in the nation.

The Tekes continued their excellence in scholarship with the highest GPA among actives in all fraternities on campus. The Tekes also began their journey towards earning chapter status under the direction of National Director of Chapter Development Dennis "Buckwheat" Perry.

Emphasis on scholarship, school spirit, campus involvement, community service, and brotherhood are the foundations of Tau Kappa Epsilon. TKE really is the "fraternity for life."

KAPPA ALPHA PSI

Kappa Iota Chapter

first place in Que-Delta Stepdow; first place in Omega Psi Phi Talent Show; won first place in the Blood Drive (45 and under membership) for the third consecutive year enabling us to keep the trophy; first place for most funds raised in Halloween Carnival. We have established a "student revolving loan" on campus, the first of its kind. We participated actively in the Hattiesburg Centennial Celebration.

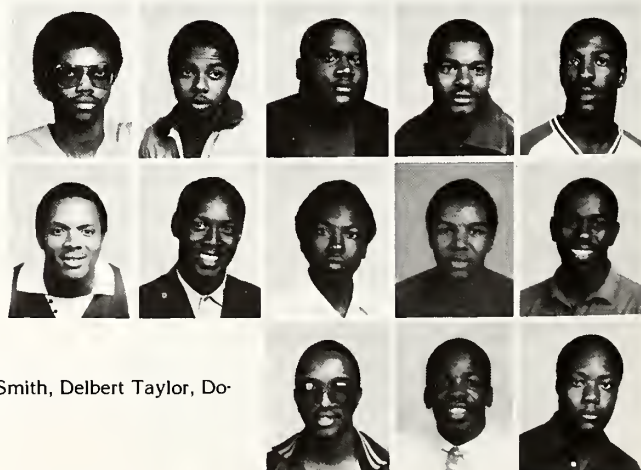

Our underlying thirst for achievement has instilled in us a desire to achieve in such endeavors as USM's football team, Army and Air Force ROTC, UAC, Union Board, Black History Month, ASB Minority Affairs Director and Associate Director of Student Services, National Dean's list. Scabbard and Blade, UPI Co-Linemen of the Week, The Pride, intramural sports, Afro-American Cultural Society and Guide Right Programs.

The Kappa Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi, in an attempt to further illustrate its fundamental purpose of achievement as established by our founding fathers, has taken an even greater stance in promoting membership development in university affairs. Seven score and two years later, this fundamental purpose is still being exemplified. Here are some of our notable achievements: we won first place in the annual "Chi Omega Songfest," first Black Greek organization to hold that position in the 30-year history of the Songfest; won

The Panhellenic Council is a governing body serving the sororities of U.S.M. The council is concerned with all of the activities of the sororities and promotes intersorority cooperation and relations. This organization provides unity among sorority chapters and aids in the development of each chapter member.

The Junior Panhellenic Council is composed of pledges from each of the sororities here at U.S.M. The goals and ideals of this organization are the same as those of the Panhellenic Council in that they both strive to promote intersorority relations.

The Residence Hall Association is an integral part of the housing system here at QSM. Each campus resident is a member of the Residence Hall Association.

The RHA is responsible for planning a number of campus events, including the Mardi Gras Ball, Turkey Chase, and Resident Ruckus Week. Some activities are limited to residence halls and include workshops and taking Hattiesburg children trick-or-treating from hall to hall. In addition, the RHA sends members to state, regional, and national residence hall conventions, where valuable leadership skills, communication techniques, and programming ideas are obtained. Equally important, of course, is the social interaction which occurs between students from different schools, fast friendships are formed, and a great time is had by all!

In addition to programming, the RHA is available to assist residents with any problems they encounter, from hall problems to suggestions concerning the QSM Food Services.

American Society of Interior Designers

The American Society of Interior Designers serves as a forum for the exchange of news and ideas between professional designers. The USM Student Chapter of ASID is a common ground for all its members. ASID serves as an educational medium through conventions on the national level, and through guest speakers at the student chapter meetings.

ASID educates its members by exposing them to new ideas through experienced professional speakers and advisers.

This organization proposes to provide both social and cultural activities for students who are concerned with the interests of the Black Student population of USM. These activities include such things as social and cultural functions, campus orientation for new students, assistance for members to promote scholarship, a place for members to meet informally, and group discussions on topics of mutual interests. As the largest student organization at USM, the AACS during the 1982-1983 school year registered an excess of over 350 members.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union offers students the opportunity for developing vital relationships—with God, self, and with others. The executive council makes up the core student leadership of the BSU. Weekly worship experiences are offered at Noondays and "TNT" night meetings. Dorm Bible studies, discipleship groups, prayer groups, and ministry groups are held weekly for the purpose of growth and service in Christ. Students are given the opportunity to use and develop talents through drama, puppets, and music groups. Further growth and encouragement are provided through retreats and planned fellowships, as well as daily fellowship at the BSU Center (located on N. 31st Ave. behind the Ed-Psych building). Recreation and intramurals offer students fun and friendly competition among other campus organizations. Summer missions, community missions and ministry teams provide special opportunities to accomplish two key purposes of BSU: growth and service in Christ.

Students Abroad!

Seven USM political science students and 16 Radio, Television and Film students with professors Dr. Jerry Waltman and Dr. James Hall participated in the five-week British Studies Program last summer. The program, a component of the USM Center for International Education, affords American students a unique social and educational experience at extremely low cost, and the chance to earn credit hours.

Many interesting facets of Anglo-American culture were examined by those students who participated, some of which were; alcohol and drug abuse, the British monarchy and Parliament, the structure of the European Common Market, British radio, television, newspapers, and film, foreign policy, and literary trends.

Also offered were both academic and non-academic tours to places of interest. Students visited such sites as Winsor Castle, the British Broadcasting Corporation, Dover, Canterbury, Cambridge, Oxford, and Edinburgh, as well as Normandy and France.

According to Dr. Taylor, director of the USM Center, the object of the summer term is to "promote a more profound knowledge of our roots through a structured learning experience that leaves students with ample time to enjoy England . . . We are hopeful that the Schools of Home Economics, Nursing, Social Work, and the departments of anthropology, psychology, journalism, and theater arts will join us this year."

The DEC VAX 11/780 computer system, the latest addition to the Computer Science Department, was recently purchased to handle the ever increasing number of computer science students. Installed in May of 1982, the Vax cost a half million dollars. Currently there are 64+ terminals, but with 1,400 CSS majors and more expected, extra terminals are to be installed. The VAX is a sophisticated system which has the capability of graphics, a host of languages, of games, and a lot more. It is the most widely used mini computer in the world.

Besides the VAX, USM has a famous chess playing computer known as the CRAY Blitz. The program was designed by Robert Hyatt, and Dr. Albert Gower, both faculty members here, and has competed with humans since 1976. The Xerox Sigma IX was used until 1980 when CRAY Research of Minnesota began supporting the program. The CRAY computer can make 320 million calculations per second. It was the first computer to win the Mississippi State Chess Championship. And, it is also expected to be mentioned in the Guinness Book of World Records as a result of its accomplishments in speed chess competitions.

"I think she's at the library . . ."

The library. For many its considered to be an omnium of billions upon billions of dusty books to be avoided at all costs. Yet, for others the library is a haven for research and study, for browsing through magazines, and microfiche, and for working on classroom assignments. The quiet atmosphere lends itself to this for some will never study elsewhere.

The massive branches of Friendship Oak dip and then gracefully arch skyward again, dwarfing the building beside it. Hardy Hall, the conference center-cafeteria complex at the University of Southern Mississippi's Gulf Park campus on U.S. 90 in Long Beach, is no insignificant building; but you can only glimpse patches of it through the expansive, twisting branches of the live oak.

Friendship Oak shades an entire corner east of Hardy Hall, casting shadows on a plaque erected in 1969 by the sophomore class of what was then still the Gulf Park College, a school for women. A legend, celebrated on the plaque, holds that those who enter the tree's shadow shall remain lifetime friends, and the plaque dates the tree to 1487, five years before Columbus' first explorations.

While the date might be presumptive, on a campus dotted with grand live oaks, in an area of the country where such trees are legion as well as legendary, the Friendship Oak takes its place regally among them.

Benches stand scattered in its shade, but perhaps the oak's best feature is that it's easy to climb. Steps lead to a major split in the trunk where you can walk through the limbs onto a wooden platform. Bluejays and mockingbirds call from its uppermost branches, and fern coats some of the limbs like gloves. A north wind stirs the mighty branches, some 5 feet in circumference, and the 50-foot-plus limbs create wonderful, sweeping shadow patterns in the wind. Reaching almost 70 feet tall, the oak measures 16 feet around the base, and its lateral roots reportedly extend 85 feet.

Sitting cradled in its branches, you can easily understand why America's vagabond poet, Vachel Lindsay, chose Friendship Oak as the site for his outdoor classes. An English literature and poetry instructor at the women's college, he regularly held classes at the wide oak.

USM Army ROTC

No matter what career you pursue later on, experience in Army ROTC proves to be a valuable asset. Employers look for men and women with the ability to think clearly, solve problems as they arise, and lead others in making businesses more productive. These and many other management skills are basic to ROTC training.

Leadership training, extra cash for college, opportunities for more education, the chance to travel, the pleasure of being in top physical shape, the advantages of belonging to a group on campus—these benefits and more all add up to help students "Be All You Can Be" in Army ROTC at USM.

Step Down . . .

What's a step down? It's where all Greek groups get together and entertain their audience with rhythmic steps with the use of their feet, songs, and dances. The rhythmic steps are learned during pledge week and is performed whenever an event appears on campus.

Charles Jenkins, a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, says that the step down brings all Greeks together in a sense of brotherhood.

The time that goes into a performance varies because each Greek has to learn new steps and old in order to perform their best. Preparation takes from one day to three weeks.

Lake Sehoy

Lake Sehoy is a USM recreational facility for the University and community alike, according to Michael Giles, Aquatics Director.

"Three years ago, the intramural and recreational department took over the facility. Now, in its fourth year, Lake Sehoy has been developed into a recreational area that offers a large pavilion, a log cabin used for meetings and parties, numerous picnic sites with charcoal grills, a waterfront, perfect for boating, fishing, and swimming, as well as a mini-golf course," said Giles.

Fishing rodeoes, mini-golf tournaments, arts and crafts shows, as well as running trails, expanded picnic areas and more boating facilities are a few of the programs and offerings hoped to be provided by the lake in the future.

The lake is basically open all year. If last year is an indication, from April through November, the lake will be used by at least one group during the weekdays and by at least one or two groups on the weekends.

Golden Eagle Football

by Shelia Skipper

An exciting 1982 football season seemed inevitable as the Golden Eagles entered the season with a team marked by experience and motivated by pressure to perform and win. This promising combination—consisting of sixteen returning starters, a new head coach, a 1981 Heisman Trophy candidate, a spot in Sports Illustrated's Top 20 predictions, a newly polished reputation, and the toughest schedule in the history of USM football—was being watched closely by sports fans across the nation as the Golden Eagles fought to deepen their reputation untarnished.

Eagle Fever spread rapidly as USM romped over the Northeast Louisiana Indians 45-27. The Golden Eagles gained a new hero in sophomore tailback Sam Dejarnette as he set an M.M. Roberts Stadium record and tied Ben Garry's record for rushing attempts with 34 carries for 171 yards. What seemed to be the beginning of another glorious season, however, turned out to be a booster shot for the Eagle defeats which were to follow.

A long-kindling flame grew into fire as the Golden Eagles traveled to Oxford to battle with the Ole Miss Rebels. But the "battle" resulted in embarrassment for the Eagles as the Rebels took early control of the game, ignoring the courageous second-half Eagle comeback, to win 28-19.

Second-half strategy did not work with the War Eagles of Auburn, either. After a 21-3 Auburn lead, the Eagles closed the gap to 21-19 before the final minutes of the game. During those final minutes USM felt they could pull ahead.

but lack of time and questionable officiating prevented the Eagles to kick a last minute field goal. So the score remained and the Eagles suffered their second defeat of the season.

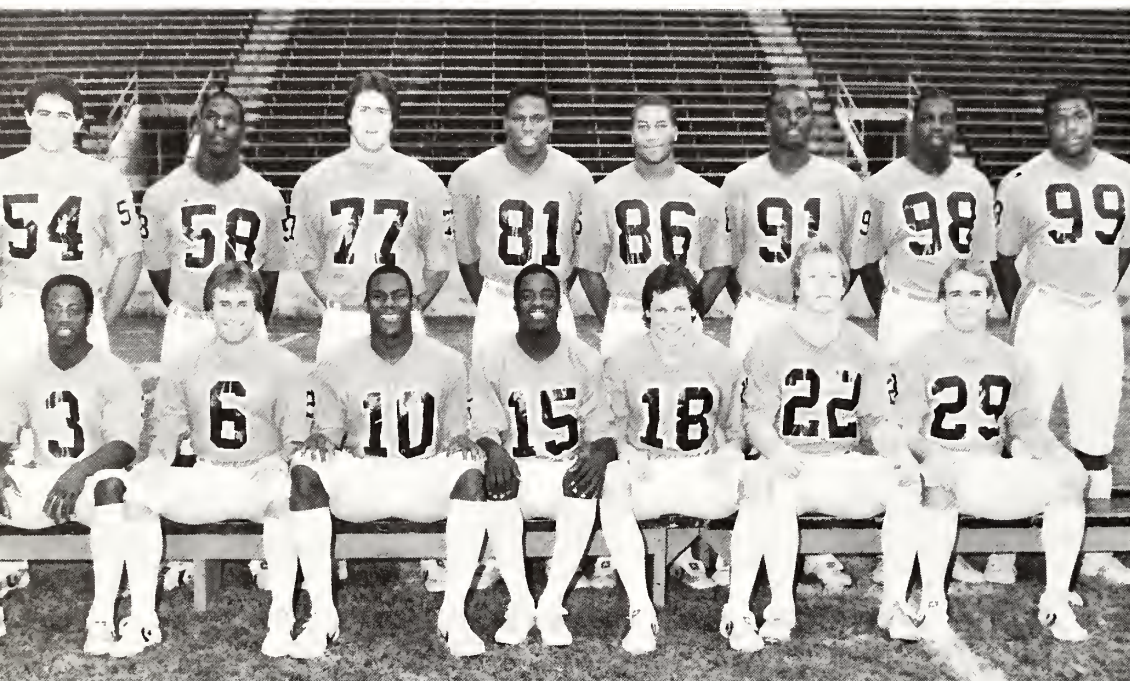

September 25, The Florida State University Seminoles came to get revenge for the 58-14 humiliation USM handed to them during last season's regionally televised game. The Seminoles first goal was to stop Eagle quarterback Reggie Collier; however, in controlling Collier, FSU allowed DeJarnette to run rampant for a 304 yard gain on 43 plays, DeJarnette was named the Associated Press National Back of the Week and added his name as no. 16 on NCAA's all-time list of "Best Single Game Performance." But for all of USM's efforts, FSU continued the fight to regain their dignity. A Seminole fake field goal with 5:20 remaining in the game was the turning point. FSU kept their lead to win 24-17.

Memphis State seemed to be the "confidence builder" USM needed. The Eagles jumped right in playing ball from the beginning, leaving the Tigers far behind. The Nasty Bunch held the MSU offense to 126 yards in 36 rushes, while the Eagles totaled 447 yards for the game. Southern handed Memphis State their fifth loss of the season while winning 34-14.

The Golden Eagles kept their confidence as they met Mississippi State in Jackson on October 9. The Nasty bunch revived after a few games of silence and held off the explosive Bulldog offense as USM won 20-14. Southern continued to control the field as they spoiled Tulane's Homecoming with a 22-10 victory the following week.

October 23 was USM's Homecoming, and Louisville came down assuming to continue their three-year clutch. As one sports writer commented, "Louisville's big mistake was showing up. After that it only got worse." And so it did as the USM offense and defense collaborated for their best performance of the season. The Eagle offense gained 500 total yards.

while the Nasty Bunch had six interceptions, six deflections, three fumble recoveries, and four quarterback sacks. The first 90-yard return by Louisville was called back, the Cardinals continued to make mistakes, USM capitalized on this for a glorious 48-0 Homecoming win.

Southern continued for a five-game winning streak showing before interested Independence Bowl scouts as they shut out the Cajuns of the University of Southwest Louisiana 36-0. Dejarnette set a single-season rushing record with 1,257 yards.

November 4 was an open date, but that week did anything but allowed rest before the Alabama game, for the NCAA slapped a two-year probation on the Eagles for recruiting violations — which meant no bowl game. So what? The Golden Eagles had a bowl game of their own with Alabama November 13 (dubbed the GATA Bowl) and proved what USM could do. In the greatest victory in Southern history,

Ticketline Blues

Football tickets are among the most demanded items on campus in the fall. Even so, USM sticks with traditional means of distribution . . .

Unlike many universities who charge students for game tickets, Southern provides them free with presentation of a valid campus I.D. I.D.'s are punched in specific areas of the card preventing students from receiving more than one ticket per game. To reduce crowded lines at the ticket booth, students may obtain group tickets. Windows are specified for numbers of sixteen to twenty-five tickets and so forth.

With section E reserved for football players, competition for seats in sections D and F is fierce. It is not unusual for groups, especially fraternities, to camp out two and three days ahead of time to insure preferred areas of the stadium.

Many take their place in line equipped with books, radios, and sleeping bags or mattresses. Tickets are given out on a first-come-first-served basis. Nevertheless, everyone attends the game with enthusiasm even when stuck with HH. Next day, of course, ticket line strategy is planned for the following week's game.

the Eagles became the first team since Florida in 1963 to beat the Tide in Bryant-Denny Stadium and score the most points on a Bryant-coached team in this stadium. The Eagles totally dominated to win 38-29. AP and UPI named Collier Back of the Week, while the AP named Jerald Baylis the Lineman of the week.

Still in the fanfare of the week before, the Eagles hosted the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs for the last game of the season. Tech brought in a powerful passing quarterback and pursued in the rainy weather for a 13-6 win.

The Golden Eagles ended the 1982 season with a 7-4 record. In after-season awards, the Clarion-Ledger, Jackson Daily News named Sam Dejarnette the offensive Player of the Year, and Jerald Baylis Defensive Player of the Year for their performances during the 1982 season. Reggie Collier was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game and the Senior Bowl, and has since signed with the USFL Stallions.

In Memory

Pie Vann

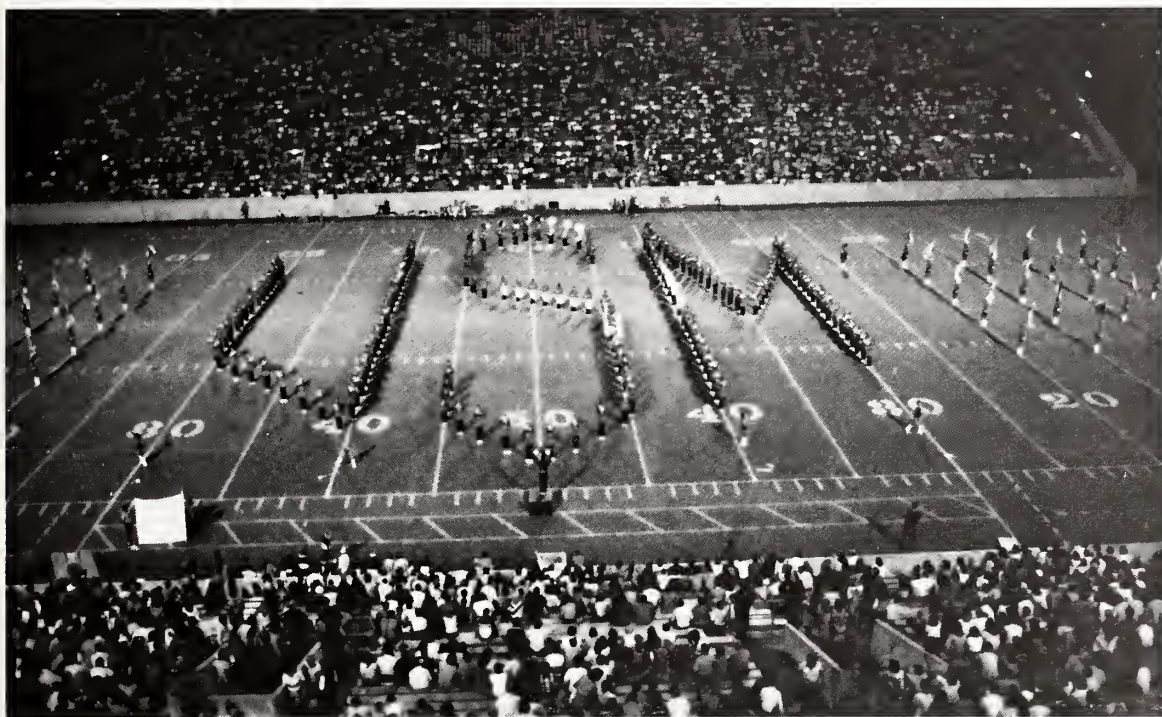

The author of an era in USM football died September 7, 1982, at the age of 76 in Jackson after an illness. Thad "Pie" Vann led the USM team from 1949-1968 with a record of 139-55-2. His 1958 team, with the only perfect season in Southern history, was ranked no.1, as was his 1962 team with a 9-1 record. The athletic dormitory was named in his honor during the 1967-68 school year. He is truly missed.

The Pride of Mississippi

Dr. James I. Nail—Director of Bands
Mr. Kelley Love—Director of the Pride of Mississippi
Mrs. Georgeane Love—Co-ordinator of Auxilliary Units

The Pride of Mississippi is known nation-wide for their outstanding musical performances. Playing for all the home games, the Pride missed only one of the away games this year. Preparation for football season doesn't come easy. Practice time totaled 20 hours a week including 6 a.m. and Saturday sessions. This year the Pride held a Parents' Day on November 20th. Approximately 350 parents, friends, and relatives of the band members came to the football game and other activities that day.

Dixie Darlings

It is not all glamour and prestige. In fact it takes a lot of time, hard work, and dedication to become and stay a USM Dixie Darling. The D.D.'s were formed back in 1954 by Dr. Manony to enhance the band during half-time presentations

Hopefuls are judged on personality, kick, weight, technical merit, and how quickly they can learn a routine. Out of all those who try out, only 65 are chosen—including four captains. It is the responsibility of the captains to make up the routines, with the help of their sponsor Mrs. Karen Quarnstrom, to lead in warm ups, drill the other members, and record music.

During Football season, practice schedule is everyday from four to six and Saturdays before the game. Not all girls can perform at each game. Tryouts are held weekly, and judging, again, is on performance, weight, and routine. Those who do not march still attend the game in uniform.

Mrs. Karen Quarnstrom, the Dixie Darling Sponsor, is very proud of her group of girls. "They all work very hard out there."

Football Cheerleaders

USM Football Cheerleaders attended College Spirit Camp at Memphis State University this past summer and placed in the top squads. On the road this fall, the cheerleaders traveled to all away games and to the senior bowl. Several members teach for various cheerleading organizations such as ECA, UCA, and NCA. The Eagle Mascot was named Outstanding Mascot by UCA at summer camp.

Men's Basketball

When Southern's Coach Turk came to USM seven years ago, he wanted to upgrade the Eagle's basketball schedule. He's done just that. This spring, to the fans' delight, USM joined the Metro Conference, one of the toughest basketball conferences in the nation.

Other members of the conference are Tulane, Virginia Tech, Louisville, Florida State, Cincinnati, and Memphis State. Two of the teams are ranked among the top ten in the country.

Over 4000 fans who eagerly awaited the new season came to see the Eagles play their first game of roundball on November 27. And play they did—the Eagles easily overran Northeast Louisiana.

Starters for the game were guards Curtis Green, the only full-time starter from the 1981-1982 season, and 6'3" senior Larry Boyd. The forwards were freshman Robert McDaniel and junior college transfer Ken Suttles. Carl Mitchell began the difficult task of replacing Joe Dawson at center.

The first half of the game, the teams seemed easily matched. USM took a slim two point lead into halftime. The second half was another story. Behind the terrific outside shooting of Curtis Green, the Eagles went on to win the game by an easy margin. The final score read USM—75, Northeast—65. USM controlled the boards and got the rebounds that led to the victory. Curtis Green was the team's leading scorer with 17 points, and Carl Mitchell followed close behind with 15. Mitchell also had 10 rebounds in the game.

The Golden Eagle team that played in Humphrey Coliseum at Starkville looked nothing like the team of two nights before. The Bulldogs, with a supportive home crowd and a new-looking offense, simply ran over USM, 81-58.

Only Curtis Green scored in double figures, with 26 points to his credit. Larry Boyd, Willie Robinson, and Ken Suttles each had six points. The key play in the loss came in the first half with a little over seven minutes left on the clock. Back-to-back slam dunks were made by the Bulldogs, extending their lead to 24-17.

Southern came home to play their third game in four days. The result was a big win that boosted the players' lagging spirits. USM simply outdid the Division III Wisconsin—Oshkosh team. Oshkosh never had a chance. Everybody knew after the first few minutes of play that the Eagles were in total control.

Michael Jett led in scoring with 18 points, while Curtis Green and Willie Robinson had sixteen each. The final score was a satisfying 103-66.

The Eagles hit the road again, this time headed to the I Pay Twenty Dollars A Year (IPAY) tournament at Clemson, North Carolina. The tournament field included Clemson, Bucknell, Furman, and USM.

The Eagles played their first game against Furman on Friday night. It was a defensive battle in which USM topped Furman 56-53, improving their record to 3-1.

Curtis Green led in scoring with 23 points. Mitchell led rebounds with four. The win put the Eagles in the tenth annual IPTDAY Championship game with Clemson.

The Eagles controlled the pace and whipped the Tigers 60-58, to have their first championship of the new season. The key to the game was slow-down. USM never allowed the Tigers the chance to use their fast-pace attack.

Green once again was high point man for the Eagles, with 19 points. The defense played as well as the offense. USM committed only 11 fouls and Clemson only had four points from the free-throw line.

USM is only one of three teams to ever beat Clemson in the tournament's history. Curtis Green was named Most Valuable Player in the tournament and was a member of the All-Tournament team. Carl Mitchell was also chosen for the team.

USM's first Metro Conference game with Tulane came two nights later in front of an enthusiastic home crowd of 5400 fans. It was the kind of game that puts you on the edge of your seat. The lead changed hands 11 times during the game when the two teams were tied. Also, neither club ever had more than a six point margin.

Larry Boyd had a steal on an inbounder by Tulane, and got a hook shot that tied the game at 48-48 with a little over two minutes left to play. Ken Shuttles got the rebound after Tulane missed the shot that gave the Eagles the chance to win. Curtis Green sank a 19-footer to win the game with three seconds left on the clock. The Eagles now have a 5-1 record.

The Eagles' record climbed to a 6-1 mark when they easily smeared the Grenadiers of Indiana-SE. The final tally was USM—91, Grenadiers—45. Kenny Dailey led all scorers with 18 points.

Unfortunately for the Eagles, easy street was behind them. They were heading into a five-game stretch of road games against some very imposing teams.

Basketball Cont.

The Christmas holidays were not all that joyful for the USM squad. The first two road games brought immediate disaster. A heartbreaking 64-62 loss to the Arkansas Razorbacks in Pine Bluff began a losing streak that was to last through January, with only occasional glimpses of a good-caliber team. Two days later, the pain of losing was reinforced on Christmas Eve with an easy victory for the Memphis State Tigers. The Tigers blasted the Eagles 81-60. Curtis Green led USM with 18 points. Carl Mitchell pulled down eight rebounds.

Coach Turk now knew that the Metro meant business; the conference was tough.

After a short break for the holidays, the Eagles headed north to Blacksburg, Virginia, to play the Hokies of Virginia Tech. Once again, the result was a loss, with a drop in the Metro Conference standings. USM had a 61-60 lead in the game with a little over five minutes left, when poor thinking, shooting, and rebounding gave the opponents the game. The Hokies won, 74-69.

Still on the road, USM came with high spirits to Tallahassee and with the intent of upsetting Florida State, but all to no avail. The Eagles played better than they had in previous games, but personal fouls were the breaking point in the 94-82 loss to the Seminoles.

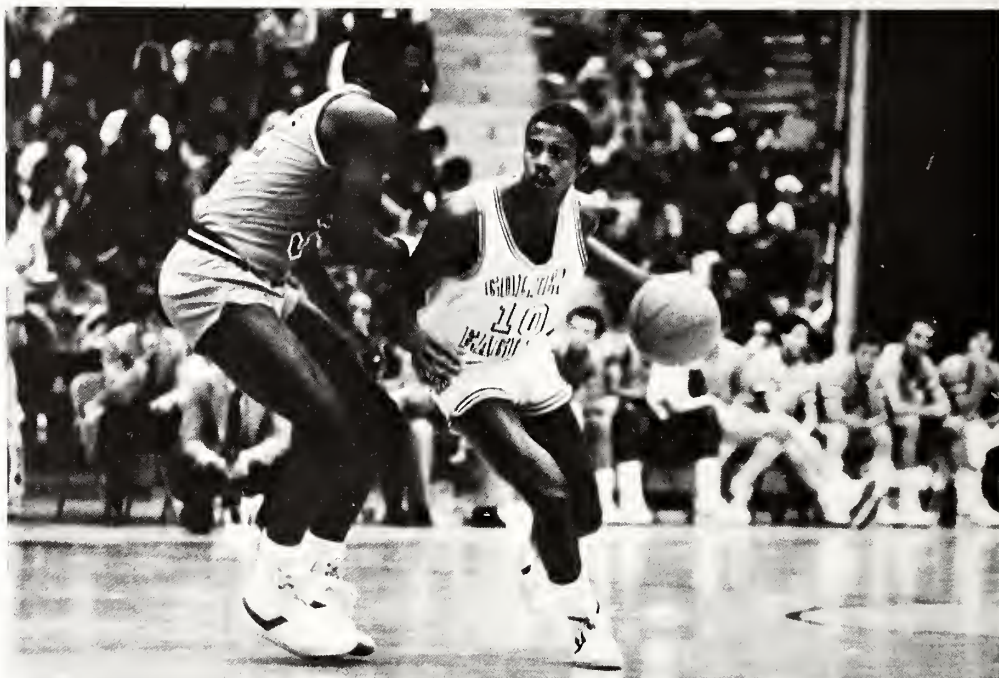

One of the bright spots of the season was Southern's emotional game against Tulane. After losing four road games, USM went to New Orleans with fire in its eyes. The confidence worked this time, with Curtis Green scoring 24 points. The Eagles edged the Green Wave in a 62-61 Metro Conference victory over Tulane.

The Eagles came home, but the opponent, Virginia—Commonwealth, was no slouch. Sloppy playing and unnecessary turnovers gave V-C the chance to give the Eagles their sixth defeat of the season. The scoreboard read V-C—78. USM—64.

Another loss was in the making, with a final score of 63-48. The ninth ranked Louisville Cardinals had to play great ball to defeat the Eagles in the harder-than-it-seems Metro Conference game. Milt Wagner did the job for the Cardinals with 32 total points. He scored 20 in the second half alone. USM lost six of its last seven games, falling to 7-7 overall and 2-5 in the conference.

Home once more, USM was hoping to get back in the groove of winning. Things looked good for Turk that night. The hardwood club gave him a brand new pick-up truck and his Eagles had an eight point halftime lead over the 17th ranked Virginia Tech Hokies. But looks were deceiving; after 15 turnovers in the second half and 15 steals by Tech, the Eagles were once again going to the lockerroom with slumped shoulders and a Metro Conference loss.

The next two games left USM on the short side, with a disastrous, poorly-played loss at home to NIT-bound UNO and a Metro whipping by the FSU Seminoles. The UNO Privateers played almost picture-perfect roundball in the embarrassing 91-74 win by the Privateers. The Seminoles brought USM's overall record to 7-10 with their victory score of 71-65. The Eagles were 2-8 in the Metro.

Pan-American gave the downtrodden team a needed win, and put an end to a five-game losing streak. The Eagles had an easy time crushing the Broncos. James Williams led all scorers with 20 points and pulled down five rebounds.

The team was finally on the right track. They played high-caliber basketball and even received some help from UNCC's coaches in their 92-66 victory over the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. UNCC had two technicals called on both coaches as a result of "bad manners" over a referee's foul call on one of their players. As a result, Curtis Green got six easy points, and the Eagles took a commanding lead.

Curtis Green was the man of the hour once more in a 59-45 triumph over the Broncos of Pan-AM on their home court. Curtis hit eight out of 12 field goals in the second half to pull the Eagles from behind and lead them to the winner's circle. Green finished with 24 points for the night.

With a 10-10 record on the line, Southern came home to play NCAA-tournament bound Southwestern Louisiana. The game went down to the wire at Reed Green Coliseum. Once again, the Eagles did not take advantage of the breaks and were defeated. With the score standing at 70-65, the team's record dropped to 10-11.

Turk received his 100th career victory when the Eagles handed the Bearcats of Cincinnati a 69-59 loss in Ohio. Freethrows, a sore spot with the Eagles, were actually a help to USM. Southern once again evened out their record.

USM gave up a 14 point lead as a result, dropping a 82-81 overtime game to UNO at New Orleans. The Eagles moved their record back to .500 with an 85-69 pounding of Western Illinois at Reed Green.

The last episode of M*A*S*H was on the tube, causing the crowd to be even smaller than usual at the coliseum, but that didn't stop the Golden Eagles from M*A*S*Hing East Tennessee State University, 77-61. Senior Guard Larry Boyd paced the Eagles with 20 points, his career high. All the seniors played well in their final home appearance.

USM finished the regular season on a high note. Spurred by Michael Jett's starring performance for flu-bitten Larry Body, the Golden boys presented Turk with a winning season by beating Western Illinois 70-62.

USM's season came to a close when they played the Virginia Tech Hokies in the opening round of the Metro Conference tournament. The Eagles lost decisively, 79-68. The winner of the tournament was Louisville, who simply outdistanced a much-improved Tulane Green Wave.

The Eagles made it through the first year in the Metro, thanks to Coach Turk and company. Only good things can be expected in the future.

The Lady Eagles basketball team entered their 1982-83 season with hopes of reaching the National Women's Invitational Tournament. The Lady Eagles joined the Metro Conference, and began looking forward to a promising season with four returning starters from last year's 16-11 team. With decisive wins over Tulane and South Alabama, the Lady Eagles began to reach for their goal.

The 1982-83 Lady Eagles, with basically a sophomore team, ended the season with a 17-10 record. Starting for head coach Kay James were Portland McCaskill, Joye Lee, Dianne Backstrom, Rose Smith, and Wilhelmina Smith.

The Lady Eagles opened the season on November 30, with a six game winning streak. Backstrom led the scoring over the Green Wave of Tulane in Reed Green Coliseum with 18 points. McCaskill, Rose Smith, and Juliette Weaver added double figure scores to help defeat the Green Wave 86-70.

On December 7, USM rolled over South Alabama 84-64 before hosting the Lady Eagle Classic. The Lady Eagles became 4-0 as they defeated Arkansas State 81-59 and Mercer 101-90, winning the tournament. McCaskill was named the Most Valuable Player, scoring 20 points, and grabbing 11 rebounds against Arkansas State, with 26 points and six steals against Mercer in the championship game.

The Lady Eagles remained at home for the next two victories. In a Metro Conference game on December 13, Memphis State was downed 86-78; two days later, USM defeated Troy State 84-67.

The Lady Eagles suffered their first defeat of the season 106-97 against North Carolina in the Auburn Dial Classic. The Lady Netters persevered in Auburn to triumph over Austin Peay 102-69.

USM continued to win as they traveled to Troy State to win 83-80, and to Chattanooga, where they defeated the University of Tennessee—Chattanooga 71-63. The Lady Eagles traveled to Southwestern Louisiana to suffer a 91-81 loss before entering the Magic City Classic.

Once in Birmingham, USM was downed by Louisville 81-69, but came back to defeat the University of Alabama—Birmingham 92-88, and place third in the tournament.

The Lady Eagles traveled to New Orleans on January 18, for the season's second victory over Tulane 71-66. They then came back home to defeat Mississippi College 81-58 in a team effort which left USM with a 12-3 record.

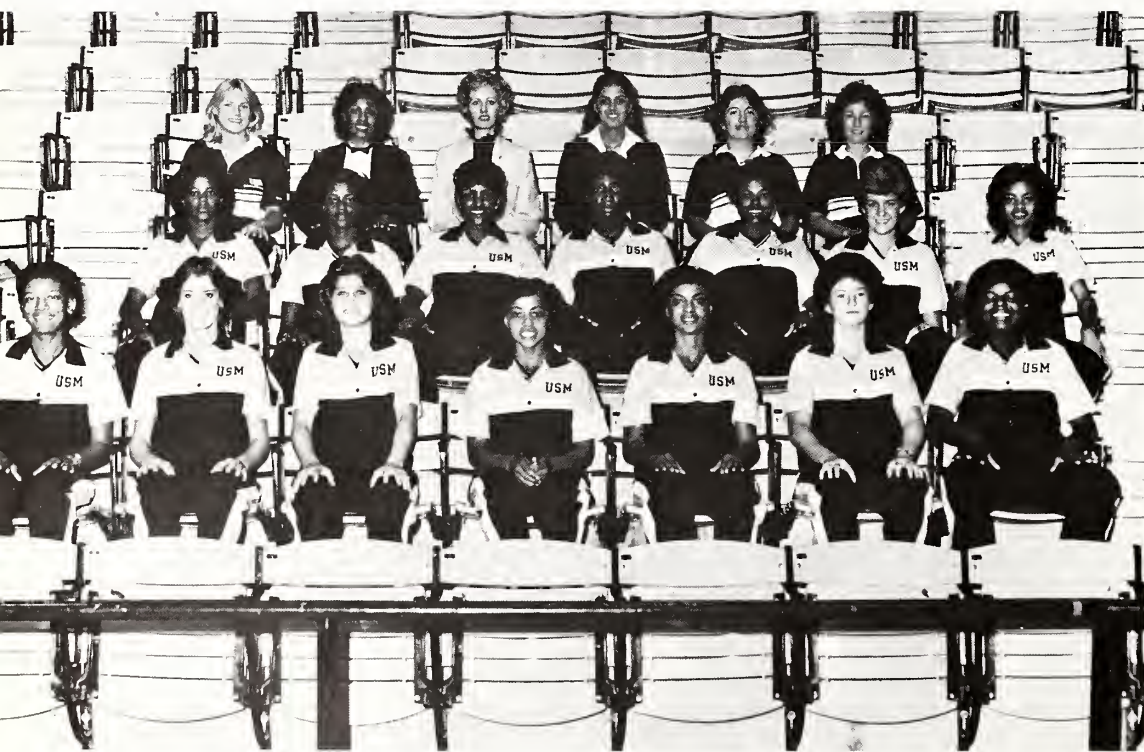

The Lady Eagles began to stumble on their next three games. The Lady Jaguars of South Alabama capitalized on USM's mistakes to win 79-71 in Mobile. Back in Green Coliseum, the Lady Eagles fell to University of New Orleans 91-89. Hoping to raise their spirits and the apparent game slump, the Lady Eagles traveled to Cleveland, Mississippi, after a few days of rest to take on the Lady Statesmen of Delta State. USM lost its third straight game, 73-67.

Using stronger defense play, Coach James and her Lady Eagles ended the losing skid to defeat Southwestern Louisiana 86-81 at home. The offense also did well, as McCaskill scored 30 points and Lee added 22 points. USM's consistent aggressiveness, despite free-throw deficiencies, enabled the Lady Eagles to stomp Belhaven 86-59 in Jackson.

The Lady Eagles split the next two home games 86-80 with Louisiana State and University of Alabama—Birmingham. LSU dominated for most of that game to win. USM fought to keep on top of UAB after McCaskill and Rose Smith received eye injuries in the first half.

USM continued to win as they edged by Jackson State 62-61, but later fell for two as they lost 86-80 to UNO for the second meeting of the season, and to MC 103-99 in double overtime. The Lady Eagles ended the regular season with a big 104-93 win over Delta State.

The Lady Eagles lost 75-71 to Louisville in the opening round of the Metro Conference tournament.

Swimming

The USM swimming team developed four years ago when the NCAA passed legislation to require teams in Division I competition to have a certain number of varsity sports in order to keep the Division I status. Men's swimming was chosen as one of the varsity sports added.

The team consists of 14 swimmers who competed in 14 meets this year. These included the National Independent Collegiate Championships in Columbia, South Carolina and the National Collegiate Championships in March.

Coach Michael Giles says that the future of USM swimming looks terrific. Since it is the only collegiate team in the state, people are inquiring into the program everyday.

Golf

USM concluded this year's golf season finishing in a tie for 13th in the Mississippi State Coca-Cola Country Club of Jackson Intercollegiate. The University of Georgia won the prestigious event with a team total of 860.

The Golden Eagles finished third in the Mississippi Intercollegiate and had a third place finish in the Nichols State Invitational.

Leading this season was sophomore Jamie Sydboten of Paducah, KY, who had the lowest scoring average among the regulars at 78.45. Sydboten edged out junior Lorne McWilliams of Winnipeg, Canada, who finished with an average of 78.71. strokes per round.

Other Eagles included freshman Clark Dixon of Benton, Ill. (79.36), freshman Bruce Magee of Prentiss (79.50) and senior Ken Chomyn of Winnipeg, Canada (80.04).

In the fall USM was 11th at the Northeast Louisiana Central Bank College AM., took 15th at the USM Broadwater beach Invitational and placed ninth at the Hillman Robbins Intercollegiate.

During the spring season the Eagles played in the Seminole Classic and finished 20th, placed 17th in the UNO Marriott Classic and finished ninth in the Panhandle Invitational.

The University Equestrian Center

Throughout history the man on horseback has been awarded respect and has been clothed in an aura of glamour and adventure—from king to cowboy, cavalryman to jockey, polo player to trailrider.

Because of a deep personal and overall interest, USM was given the opportunity to open a center to provide the University community with equestrian activities as a part of the recreational activities.

Showcase '82'

Registration, Mini-Quarter, and Rush prove to be trying as well as exciting for incoming freshmen.

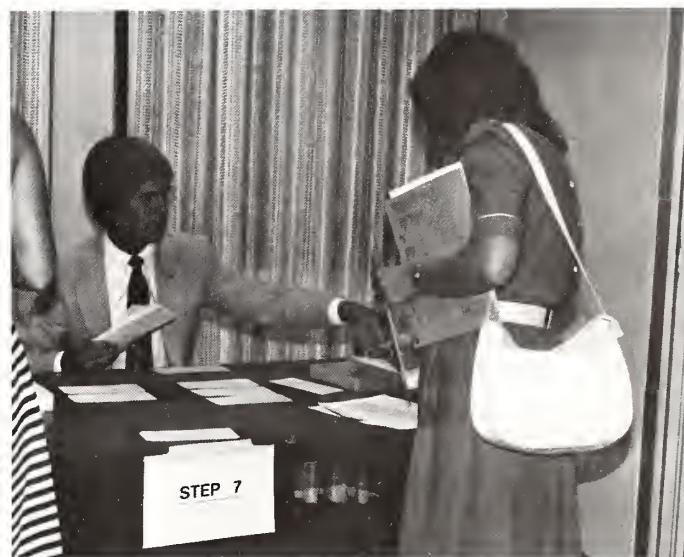

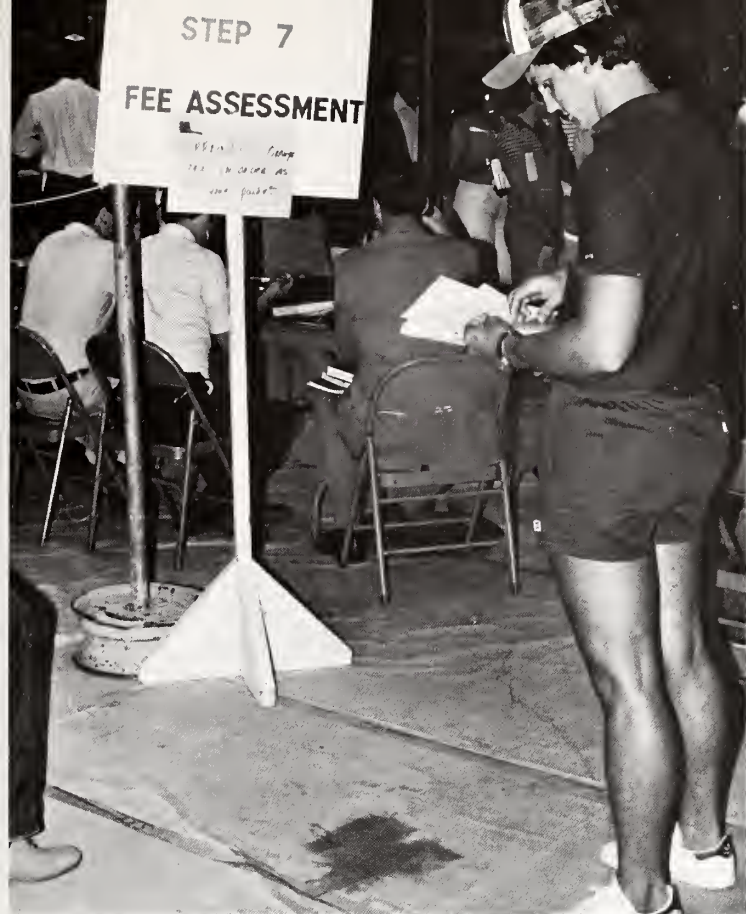

Students are introduced to USM in a two-day nonstop preview of college life through Mini-Quarter. Southern Style members assist newcomers with registration and schedules, answer questions, and help make that first semester a little less confusing.

Formal Rush is a thrill for freshmen who are interested in fraternities and sororities. Meeting other people, social gatherings, and the excitement of who will be chosen for which fraternity provides many fond memories for those who seek the greek life.

Yet, the registration maze still survives. Ploys such as waiting a couple of hours after the packet appointment time to avoid waiting in line proves to be of no avail, for nine times out of ten, forgotten parking tickets and library fines are found at the first stop. That means leaving the coliseum, straightening everything out at the Business Office, and retuning to Reed Green without losing the clearing receipt. All of this is done in good humor, of course.

Registration Mini-Quarter Rush

This year's pep rallies saw Greeks competing for spirit awards and players revving up for the games. To show support for the University, Jitney Jungle of Hattiesburg donated ten per cent of all earnings from midnight Wednesday to midnight Thursday after the USM/Alabama pep rally to a scholarship fund later to be distributed by the scholarship foundation. Other pep rallies occurred at the Petal Fairgrounds, featuring different bands and a beerbust, and by the tennis courts on campus.

Pep Rallies

The R.C. Cook Union Building celebrated its 7th annual birthday party August 28, 1982, in the Union lobby. The Union was named after Mr. R.C. Cook, a former president of USM. Cost of construction amounted to 2.5 million dollars and was the first union to be built on a Mississippi college campus. Originally located in McLemore Hall, the Union was moved in 1976 to where it now stands. Future plans for the building are to eventually expand by adding a third floor within the next ten years.

The Union has a fall schedule consisting of a Band Showcase, Birthday Party, Halloween Carnival, Coffee Houses, Arts and Crafts shows, and a Homecoming dance. A spring schedule includes a Bridal Show and Dinner Theatre. However, the Union is in full use year round for organizational meetings, banquets, seminars, lectures, or just for messing around in the game room or coffee shop.

Ryan Duren

"If Your Best Friend Was an Alcoholic"

For four years, Ryan Duren was a relief pitcher for the New York Yankees and, like many athletes, was an alcoholic. With alcohol no longer controlling his life, Duren is quick to emphasize that he does not advocate anti-drinking but anti-alcoholism. He does not believe that he became an alcoholic because of the "pressures of baseball" or a history of "family alcoholism" or some flaw in his "moral makeup." He feels that a person's attitude toward drinking is programmed by the age of 3 and that nothing happening from the ages of 3 to 39 can alter that attitude. Duren came to equate drinking with manliness and said, "I was already chemically dependent before I was out of high school." While he was an alcoholic, he wrecked several cars, burned down his own home, ruined his marriage, and was hospitalized a total of seven times. Duren resisted taking any type of medicine, opting instead for booze to dull the pain, but doctors told him that he was a drug addict "just as surely as if I was hooked on Heroin." As he struggled to overcome his addiction, his teammates would laugh and insist, "You're no more of an alcoholic than we are." After two years in a rehabilitation program at DePaul Hospital in Milwaukee, he succeeded in quitting drinking altogether and has since devoted his life to helping other alcoholics recover.

Youth Goodwill Mission

October 5, 1982

Talent and enthusiasm, paired with dozens of elaborate costumes, came together to produce a dazzling Chinese song and dance performance by the Youth Goodwill Mission from Taiwan, Republic of China. The fourteen member cast, consisting of six males and eight females, was selected from students of 106 Taiwan colleges and universities and included surprisingly few dance majors.

The program began with "On the Ancient Silk Road," featuring the dances of the ethnic groups who lived along the route. The second segment, "Folk Celebrations," highlighted a variety of traditional Mongolian and Taiwan folk activities and dances. The program concluded with "From Traditional to Modern," which outlined the transition of traditional styles of dance to modern techniques.

Thomas Houser

"Missing: An American Tragedy"

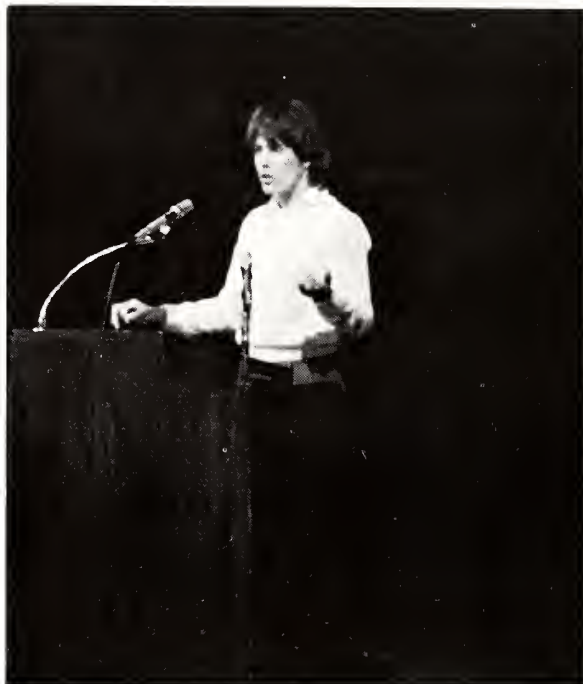

Thomas Houser was a Columbia Law School graduate specializing in cases involving freedom of the press when he wrote his 1978 book Missing: an American Tragedy. The book deals with the subject of the death of Charles Horman in Chile after the government was overthrown by a military coup. Horman had observed first hand many signs hinting at United States involvement. Soon after, Horman was arrested by Chilean military officials; his body was identified in a morgue one month later. Houser's book traces the search by Ed Horman to find out what happened to his son and explores the possibilities that Charles Horman was executed while in military custody and that the United States attempted to cover up the circumstances surrounding his death.

Missing was nominated for a Pulitzer prize before it was made into a movie of the same title starring Jack Lemmon and Sissy Spacek. Houser has continued to write, having recently published his third book, and maintains his monthly column "You and the Law" in McCall's magazine.

Diana Nyad

November 16, 1982

"The Role of Women in the Media"

Diana Nyad holds the honor of being the greatest long-distance swimmer in the world. "For ten years, I did something better than any other human being," said Nyad, in a speech about self-confidence and achievement.

Today, Nyad is a full-time commentator with ABC Sports, announcing track, volleyball, gymnastics, swimming, and many other events covered by the Wide World of Sports. Diana graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Lake Forest College, plays several musical instruments, and speaks three foreign languages. In addition to her ABC career, Diana has her own cable television exercise show and plays on the professional raquetball tour when her schedule permits. She also writes and her latest book, Basic Training for Women, is selling well and going into a paperback edition.

James Doohan

November 30, 1982

"Science Fiction: Science Fact"

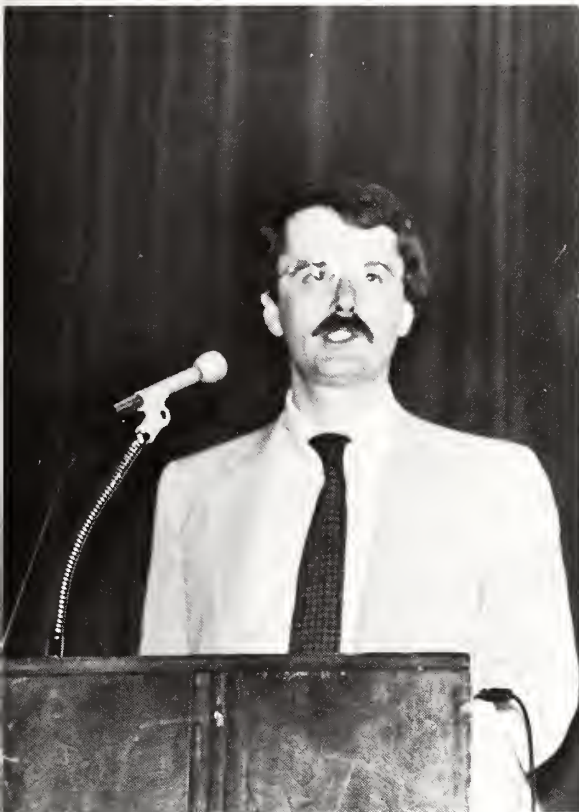

Since 1965, actor James Doohan has been known to millions of devoted Trekkies as "Scotty," chief engineer of the Starship Enterprise in the Star Trek series and movies. A native of Canada, Doohan earned a reputation as the "craziest pilot in the Canadian Air Force" prior to science fiction fame. Now living in California, he has appeared in hundreds of television roles. A self-proclaimed science fact and fiction fan, Doohan's interest led to a job as narrator of the NASA film "Space Shuttle: Mission to the Future." Pleaded Doohan, "Please don't ever stop science from advancing." He noted that although the moon program cost $20 billion, it brought over a trillion to the economy.

While allowing that it would be impossible to accurately analyze Star Trek's success, there is no question that it proved to be a profitable venture. The two movies have grossed a total of $260 million, with eight future installments set to be filmed and released every 18 months.

Ellis Woodward

December 7, 1982

"Ground Zero—A Plan for Survival"

Ellis Woodward is the Director of Public affairs and national spokesman for Ground Zero, a non-partisan project seeking to educate and involve the American people in the issue of nuclear war. Pointing out that nearly 50 thousand nuclear weapons exist today with each being over 500 times more powerful than those used in Japan, Woodward finds nuclear war a frightening possibility.

With the first nuclear explosion, "... 500 million people would die immediately," said Woodward. "That's 1/8 of the world population." The American people would not know if other cities or countries still exist. At best, "100 million Americans would survive such an attack."

Speaking of the Russian threat of nuclear war, Woodward stated, "The Soviets have been true to their word ... what they have been doing is trying to catch up to the United States."

Senator Strom Thurmond

November 9, 1982

"The State of the Nation"

Senator Strom Thurmond began his career in the Senate in 1954 when he was elected in a write-in campaign. In 1964, he switched from the Democratic to the Republican party. The conservative trend which has developed within the party in recent years accompanies the rise of a new attitude in the country. For the first time in half a century, we have a truly conservative president, a conservative-controlled Senate, and many Democratic representatives with conservative views, said Thurmond. Changes within the party are being led by those opposed to New Deal-type proposals with the ultimate goal of improving the economic forecast. "The government is the source of, not the cure for, our economic woes," said Thurmond. To stimulate the economy, the conservatives favor tax relief and a balanced budget.

John Coleman

October 19, 1982

"Prisons and Reform"

John Coleman has made a career as an economics teacher and a college administrator, having served as president of Harvard College in Philadelphia from 1967 to 1977. For a six-month stint in 1973, Coleman chose to work as a dishwasher, ditch digger, short order cook, and garbage collector. The television movie "The Secret Life of John Chapman" was based on this experience. In recent years, however, Coleman has researched prison conditions, posing as both a guard and an inmate. "Prisons are not working," said Coleman. "We don't know what we need to get them working." Problems with violence, rape, and overcrowding are widespread while therapy for reform is limited.

Continuing with his interest, Coleman is presently serving as president of the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation in New York City, an organization working to improve conditions for those not served by established institutions.

At first glance, Bernard Pomerance's "The Elephant Man" appears to be the touching story of John Merrick, the terribly deformed young man who made his living in side shows in Victorian England. In fact, it is much more than the story of one young man's struggle to survive. The essence of the play is centered in the relationship between Merrick and the brilliant young surgeon Frederick Treves, who befriended Merrick in 1884.

Arts Center Series

The Arts Center Series has been consistent in bringing high quality performers to USM. This year is no exception:

- October: Anthony Di Bonaventura, one of the most eminent pianists of his generation. He has performed in twenty-two countries and has appeared with many of the world's major orchestras.
- November: Chantal Juillet, violinist, was the 1980 winner of the prestigious Young Concert Artists International Auditions. She has been featured with many of the major orchestras in the United States and Canada.
- December: Amahl and the Night Visitors, a fully staged production complete with orchestra of Gian Carlo Menotti's perennial favorite.
- January: Small Dance Company. Through an abstract movement vocabulary and the principles of time, space, shape, and energy, Artistic Director to this company Robert Small communicated his art in works pure motion, but with a strong sense of theatricality, wit, and humor.
- February: Oh, Mr. Faulkner, Do You Write? John Maxwell put on this one-man show based on letters, speeches, and the personal recollections of Mississippians who knew the Nobel Prize-winning author. It was a blend of literature and theatre; of reason and emotion; of the heart and the mind.
- March: Florence Quivar, Mezzo Soprano has repeatedly been engaged by the world's leading conductors, including Bernstein, Boulez, Ozawa, Leinsdorf, and others. The Metropolitan Opera mezzo has well over twenty-five roles to her credit.
- April: The Magic Flute was a fully staged opera production complete with symphony orchestra. It was Mozart's masterpiece—the story of Ramino, a prince who rescues Pamina, a princess, from the forces of evil, symbolized by the Queen of Night, through the powers of the Magic Flute.

Broadway hits to Country Gold, Golden Oldies of years long ago to the Pop music of today, its all done by USM's own Southern Exposure. This talented group operates out of the Public Relations Department and was established in 1975. Its main purposes are to recruit high school students and entertain alumni and other organizations.

The group consists of approximately 22 members, 11 of which are the actual performers and the remaining are band members and other key personnel. At the beginning of 1982, the 11 performers were Joan Alawine, Sherry Elkins, Donna Ginn, Linda Bishop, Melissa Watts, Lisa Hargett, David Ayers, Billy Bryan, Scott Cables, Shawyn Mars, and Brian Whittington.

Auditions are held in the fall during the first week of school. Those who try out show their performance potential by singing, dancing, or by playing an instrument. Those who make it are in for a lot of hard work. Members practice three nights a week for three to four hours at a time. By the time they perform the first show, the members have put in over 100 hours of rehearsing. The group averages 40 shows a year. Most of these are done at high schools throughout the state. Some of the major credits to date have been performances at the Miss USA Pageant and the Worlds Fair.

The group's director, Tim Breland, would like to see the group have more television "exposure" so the group can reach a wider audience. Their constant goal is to reach as many people as possible letting them know about USM as well as providing quality entertainment.

Eagle Fever soared among students and alumni as USM celebrated its 1982 Homecoming. Thursday afternoon began the week of festivities with a car parade from campus to Hattiesburg's City Hall, demonstrating the Homecoming theme—"USM and Hattiesburg . . . a Winning Tradition." Following the parade, a pep rally was held in front of Vann Hall featuring "The Pride", Dixie Darlings, and Head Coach Jim Carmody. On Friday, campus organizations were busy applying finishing touches to their displays. Sigma Chi Fraternity captured the honor of best overall. Also, the traditional Midnight Pep Rally was held in front of the campus. Saturday was filled with various open houses and sponsored events. The highlight of the week, of course, was the game held at M.M. Roberts stadium. In a pregame show, the court was presented and Anna Gonzalez of Columbus was crowned Homecoming Queen. Following the Eagle victory over Louisville, victory celebrations were abound as the week ended.

Jeff Davis

Doin' It Like an Eagle . . .

Thank goodness for accidents for that's how Jeff Davis became the Eagle mascot. Jeff, a senior in hotel and restaurant major with minors in theatre and business, accepted the job as mascot after failing to make the cheerleading squad—something he had wanted to do since he was a youngster. He tried out for mascot, thinking it was the next best thing and a way to get his foot in the door for next year's tryouts, and was chosen because he could do a flip in the costume. Later he realized that he enjoyed being the Eagle as much as he would have cheerleading, especially after getting a brand new costume designed for more maneuverability and especially for him. Jeff then began to work closely with the squad and took gymnastic classes and dance to improve his act.

Before Davis, the Eagle did little more than prance up and down the sidelines but Davis brought new dimension to the act. When he wasn't doing tricks on a motor scooter, he was climbing goal posts (or running into them), making hundred yard touchdowns, flipping, and dancing with the cheerleaders. He has arrived at the game in a long black limosine and has burst from a giant egg. To top off this his last year, Davis proved that Nugget doesn't have the corner on flying and came out of the sky. He jumped out of a plane and parachuted to the field. Well, maybe it wasn't Jeff Davis in costume but, as Davis put it, "all stars have stunt men." And a star he seems to be.

Jeff gets as many as 30-40 requests a week for birthday parties, grand openings, parades and important events statewide. He also makes appearances around the country which requires quite a bit of traveling. In his travels he has met such notables as O.J. Simpson, Alexander Haig, Paul Harvey, and the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders. He's even worked with the San Diego Chicken.

Perhaps being Eagle isn't all fun though. Irrate Tulane fraternity members attacked him during half time when USM played at Tulane's homecoming. They thought he was being obnoxious by doing ballet to their fight alma mater song and planned to take the costume back to their fraternity house. Davis said he didn't realize that he was being rude, he was just fooling around like he usually does.

In a study conducted it was shown that after weigh-ins and weigh-outs, the Eagle loses about eight pounds, not including water loss, per game—which no doubt is excessive taking into account the bulky costume and his energetic antics.

Being Eagle is very time consuming but despite this, Davis has managed to find time to be rush chairman of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, president of the International Executive Food Service Association, and works with the March of Dimes chapter in Mississippi.

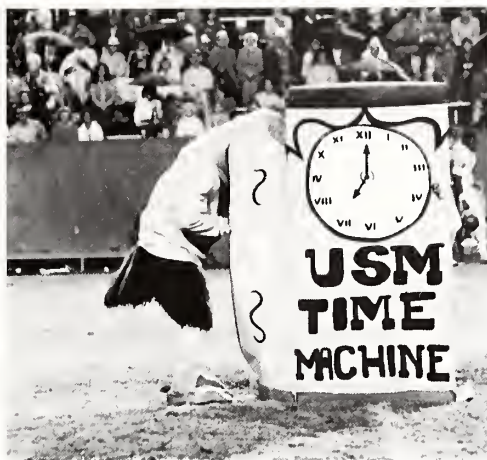

Davis says he'll miss being the Eagle. Being and developing the Eagle Mascot has led to a very nice job opportunity—Davis is to be the official mascot of the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans. He'll wear a pelican costume that "costs about the price of a mid-american car." He has already been traveling extensively in connection with the World's Fair. After two years with the Fair, where to then? Well, Davis hopes to gain some contacts working as mascot so that he can come out from behind his mask and go into theatre. If that doesn't pan out he is still very interested in hotel and restaurant management.

Jeff Davis may be leaving the USM nest but by no means is he leaving it empty. Davis' graduation is not the end of a three-year long tradition of exuberent, innovative mascot game shows—he has a fledgling he is personally training to fill his place. So hopefully what Davis has started will become a tradition—a great Eagle mascot to help give the Fever to the fans of a great team.

Sherry Elkins 1983 Miss Southern

Sherry Elkins of Wesson took the title of Miss Southern Saturday evening in the 1983 Miss Southern Pageant held in the Performing Arts Center on campus.

Elkins, who also won the swimsuit competition, is a senior dance major at USM where she has been a member of the Dixie Darlings for four years, serving as a captain of the group for two years. Runner-up to Miss Southern last year, Elkins represented Covich County in the 1982 Miss Mississippi Pageant where she was first alternate. She will return to the Miss Mississippi Pageant in 1983 representing USM as Miss Southern.

Runners up to Elkins were Beth Glover, first alternate, a communications major from Hattiesburg; Rachel Roseberry, second alternate and talent competition winner, paralegal studies, Hattiesburg; Brenda Williams, third alternate, and Miss Congeniality, psychology major, Meridian; and Gayle Davis, fourth alternate, medical technology, Hattiesburg. Claudia Michelle Miggins, a speech pathology major from Jackson, won the Director's Award.

The program featured songs from the Broadway musical "A Chorus Line." Entertainers attending the pageant were Shari Sneider from Jackson, Oliver Woodall from Jackson and Diane Evans, current Miss Mississippi.

Other contestants involved in the pageant were Theresa Mikkelsen, business major from Magnolia Springs, AL; Joan Alauine, English major from Union; Jan Meitzler, marketing major from Picayune; Michelle Nichols, pre-med major from Moss Point, and Debbie Wood, music education major from Ellisville.

The executive committee for the pageant was Alicia McKinley, executive director; Ken Waltman, assistant director; and Cathye Ross, business manager.

Greek Week:

Wes Peters and Amy Sproles Named 1982 Greek God and Goddess

Greek Week—a week set aside 2 weeks prior to spring finals for campus greeks to compete with each other for recognition through awards and scholarships.

Every year the Inter-fraternity Council recognizes the most outstanding greek male and female. Last year's winners were IFC's Johnny Atherton, Panhellenic active Christy Townly, and pledge Patty Jean Paige.

Beginning the Greek Week Games, names of all fraternities and sororities are placed in 2 containers. Winners from these pairings were Chi Omega and Sigma Nu.

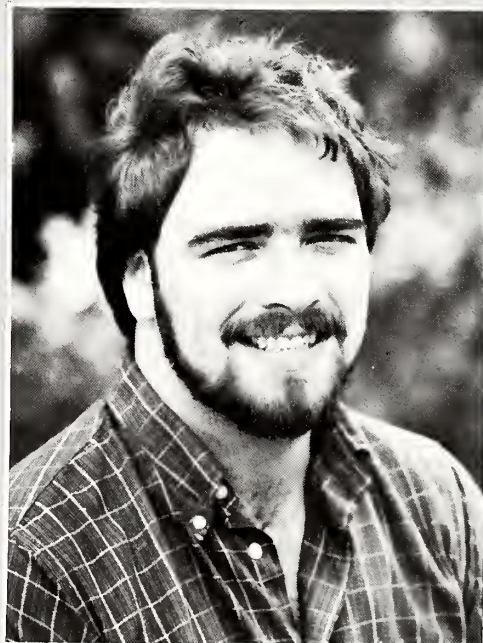

Each greek organization also selects a representative for Greek God and Goddess who have been active during the week showing outstanding ability.

The greeks show off their representatives at a parade held during the festivities. Cars are decorated to some particular theme with their representatives dressed accordingly. When the winners of Greek Games are determined, the greek representatives become the new Greek God and Goddess. Last year's winners were Chi Omega's Amy Sproles and Sigma Nu's Wes Peters.

Referees vote for the teams with most sportsmanship. Winners included Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Pi Beta Phi.

The Co-chairmen of Greek Week were Chi Omega's Beth Reedy and Phi Kappa Tau's Johnny Atherton.

The Flood of '83

April showers were unusually heavy for South Mississippi during the first week of the month with over 12 inches of rain in one day which caused flash flooding and forced many people in lowlying areas of Hattiesburg, Petal and Columbia to evacuate their homes. It was called the worst flooding in 100 years in this part of Mississippi and earned the title of both Federal and State Disaster Areas.

The heavy rains began on Wednesday, April 6, and continued through Thursday causing major flooding downtown Hattiesburg with the Leaf River exceeding its flood stage and finally reaching a crest of 29.1 feet on Friday. A number of businesses in the area suffered major losses when flood waters forced their way into stores on East Hardy, Main, Highway 49 South, Forrest and other streets. Also, several residential sections of Hattiesburg were partially submerged. Several apartments were flooded near the campus and on-campus streets were several inches under water just after the hard rains. A steam tunnel under the sidewalk in front of the ROTC Building collapsed from water pressure.

Other than getting wet and having classes called off Wednesday night and all day students seemed to be unaffected by the disaster going on around them unless they had personal property involved, were unable to go home or they volunteered their services to the Red Cross to help in the evacuation shelters at local schools housing approximately 350 people left homeless.

In addition, there were three deaths in the state, $129 million in damages, 5,000 people evacuated and 3,375 buildings damaged. A total of 19 bridges were destroyed, another 97 bridges and approaches were damaged and 775 miles of roads, streets and utilities were damaged. The Hattiesburg American quoted Marion-Jefferson County Civil Defense Director Jim Thornhill as saying, "It looks like giant tidal wave just roared across the county. It will be long remembered."

International Education

All programs bringing international students to USM for study or carrying USM students abroad for academic credit fall under the auspices of The Center for International Education. Headed by Dr. William B. Taylor, the Center also exists to promote the development of an international outlook within the academic community, as well as to assist business and government in projects of an international nature.

One of the components of the Center is the English Language Institute. Founded in 1947 as The Latin American Institute to help Latin-American businessmen learn English, the E.L.I. has broadened its scope considerably since its inception. Today it provides intensive language instruction to students from all over the world who wish either to learn English, or to improve their existing knowledge of the language. The Institute is among the oldest and largest language institutes in the United States. Since 1977 some 7000 students representing forty countries have studied at the E.L.I.

Many E.L.I. students stay to continue their education at USM or nearby colleges and universities or junior colleges. Over 92 former E.L.I. students are presently enrolled in USM. A second component of the Center exists to process applications and to advise and give assistance to these and all international students attending the University. The office of International Student Admission and Advisement, directed by Alice L. Maw, processed over 900 applications this year.

A third component of the Center, The Office of International Studies, coordinates all USM courses offered abroad for academic credit while a fourth, The Institute of Anglo-American Studies, attempts to foster a more profound understanding of Anglo-American culture among students and faculty through scholarly activities in the United Kingdom and the United States.

Some come to E.L.I. on scholarship from their government won after surviving a series of gruelling exams and coming out with top honors. Some find out about the Institute from their embassies, while probably the majority hear of E.L.I. by word-of-mouth from friends and relatives who are former students.

For the first time students from Malaysia are studying here at the Institute. All twenty of them have applied for admission to USM. They will stay in the U.S. for six years until they complete their degrees, returning home every two years for some R&R. Twenty Japanese students and one each from Taiwan, Vietnam and Korea make up the rest of the Asian population at the Institute.

The largest contingent of students comes from Venezuela with 61 students in attendance this session. Sixty-four per cent of E.L.I. students are Spanish-speaking and come from many nations in South and Central America, as well as Mexico and the Caribbean. Students are also here this session from Europe and the Arab states.

Many E.L.I. students stay to continue their studies in the U.S., often remaining in the Mississippi area. Former E.L.I. students presently enrolled at USM are working toward degrees in the sciences, particularly computer science and polymer science, and Business Administration, as well as pre-engineering courses and communication.

A Look Back at the U.S., U.S.M. and the World of 1982-1983 . . .

Looking back over the past school year, every day is filled with happenings around the world, in the U.S., and in Mississippi. Trends, wars, and people fill the hours.

The biggest news event worldwide was the Israeli-Lebanese war. Bitter plan attacks and constant artillery shelling were swapped back and forth between the two countries. After a tentative settlement there was a vengeful massacre of about 1200 Palestinians by the Lebanese Christian Phalangists. The angry feelings still have yet to be resolved.

Because of a terrible worldwide economic recession, leaders who long ruled their countries were ousted. Spain, Mexico, Japan, and West Germany all elected new political leaders. El Salvador had an election, but the new regime still could not control the rebel's merciless killing.

The most important change in leaders came as a result of Russia's Leonid Brezhnev's death. The new man in control of the polit-bureau is Yuri Andropov, a onetime KGB head.

In October, Chicago, as well as the whole nation, was stricken by the Tylenol murders. Cyanide was found in bottles of extra strength Tylenol capsules. The killer never was found. As a result, all major pharmaceutical companies began using tamper proof packaging.

November, election month, saw changes in the congress and in governorships. Since people were dissatisfied with Reaganomics and the poor economy, the democrats won 26 new seats in the House of Representatives. Seven more governorships went to the Democrats. In Mississippi, Senator John Stennis easily out distanced republican candidate Haley Barbour. Representative Trent Lott was also reelected.

Christmastime brought some recovery to the economy, but sales were still down. Norman Mayer, a nuclear-freeze proponent, held the Washington Monument hostage for ten hours, to draw attention to the possibility of nuclear war. Mayer was killed by Washington police after his seige.

The big news in January was the EPA and its administration. The head of the Environmental Protection Agency, Anne Gorsuch, resigned under intense pressure. The EPA was found to have eased regulations for some chemical companies clean-up operations. Gorsuch was also cited for contempt of Congress.

Mississippi's greatest advance during the past year was the education bill, encouraged by William Winter, passed by the legislature. The bill will set up public kindergartens. But, funding has become a major problem for the state. So vast is the problem that cutbacks were made everywhere, including money available to USM.

Men across the country became better friends with their wives and girlfriends during the eight week football players strike. Later in the year the season resumed. Once the games began the Washington Redskins took control of the shortened season, they went on to take the Super Bowl crown from the Miami Dolphins.

In college football, Penn State was declared national champion after beating Georgia and stopping USFL bound Herschell Walker. USM did not go to a bowl as a result of a NCAA probation. The eagles did beat the "Bear" on his home turf. Paul "Bear" Bryant died two months later, one month after he announced his retirement. After months of speculation, Reggie Collier signed a multi-million dollar contract with the newly-formed United States Football league as a quarterback for the Birmingham Stallions.

Other sports notes: Bjorn Borg quit playing tennis because of lack of motivation. Boxing's Sugar Ray Leonard stepped out of the ring for good, and boxer Duk Koo Kim was killed in a fight with Ray (Boom Boom) Mancini. A new football league was formed, the USFL.

M*A*S*H's last episode was viewed by the largest T.V. audience ever. All the characters we learned to love over the years went home from the Korean War. But while some people stayed home to watch the last season of M*A*S*H, others flocked to the theatres to see Tootsie, Gandhi, The Verdict, Sophie's Choice, Rocky III, and the big hit of the year and the Academy Awards (along with Gandhi), E.T.

Princess Diana and Little William were always in the society pages. Prince Andrew's romantic escapades with Koo Stark were plastered across the front pages. John De Loreau saw his name on the T.V. screen after his company failed and he was involved with an illegal cocaine deal. Sophia Loren was the best prisoner in the Italian Prisons.

Sadly, America lost some heroes. Barney Clark, the first person ever to receive an artificial heart, died after four months. Henry Fonda, last seen in the film "On Golden Pond" died quietly after a lengthy fight with heart disease. Grace Kelly, Princess of Monaco, was killed in a tragic car wreck. Her daughter Stephanie survived. Bess Truman, the wife of the late President Harry Truman, died at the age of 97.

Closer to home: Three USM students were arrested for first-degree arson after setting off a military artillery simulator bomb in Elam Arms, creating an explosion which blasted the door off of one room.

Sherry Elkins, a senior from Wesson majoring in dance, was named Miss Southern and was chosen first alternate in the Miss Mississippi contest.

Jeff Davis traded in his eagle wings for a pelican suit when he was chosen as the official mascot for the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans.

Jim Warren and Steve Sheppard won the student body presidential and vice-presidential elections for the 1983-1984 school year.

The University Commons was renovated through the addition of carpeting, new furniture, framed photographs and art prints plus murals.

After a year of construction to replace roofing materials containing asbestos, the Natatorium reopened its doors for swimming activities.

For the first semester ever, freshmen were issued reports to inform their parents of their progress.

The College of Science and technology continued to grow at a phenomenal rate, with more than one-tenth of USM's students opting to major in computer science. The computer science department, along with the communications and the marine education departments, received leadership roles in the state from the Mississippi Board of Trustees for the Institution of Higher Learning. Dr. Lucas designated that these three areas were to be developed as "Centers of Academic Excellence."

One of the biggest issues affecting students this year dealt with financial aid. The number of students receiving financial aid (including work-study, loans, and grants) during the 82-83 school year numbered between six and eight thousand.

Editor's Message...

Here it is. An accumulation of six years in association with yearbook production has ended with the honor of holding the editorship for The 1983 Southerner, a position much sought after since I was a senior in high school.

There are many people I would like to personally acknowledge for their continuous guidance and support: Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Campbell, Susie, Randy, B.R., Carey, Jerry, Ercel, Charles, Babs Clark, Puffy Hodges, Buddy Mayo, Bill Ray, Cheryl Jones, Judy, Boo, Buster, James Bishop, Gene Wiggins, Big Al and Company, Steve and Frank, for it is they I admire and have learned the most from.

Many thanks goes to our advisor Warren K. Dunn for all his help and patience; to the 1983 Staff—especially Shane, Susan, Sandy, Kim, and John for their perserverence; to photo service—Robert Phillips, Vaughn Wilson (who graciously allowed us to take beauties pictures at his mother's home), Peggy Meadows, Tommy Bennet; to the folks at Herff Jones—Billy Benson, Debbie Kennedy; to the Union Staff—Vickie Wilson, Minnie Austin, Scott Dossett, Lisa McQuillan, Mom Samrow; Public Relations—Roger Brenniger, John Cox, Ace Cleveland; to the Honors College for Forum pictures; to The Student Printz as a source of information and Louisa Sherin, Tim Isbell, and Micky Welsh for use of their photos; to Cindy Blackmer also for use of her photos; UAC; the USM Publications Board; and to everyone involved.

I hope you find the 1983 edition of your liking. We have worked long hours to continue an upswing in USM yearbook quality.

To Sandy Loveday and Kim Willis, the Co-Editorship of The 1984 Southerner is turned over to you. I wish you as much satisfaction in undertaking the challenge as I have had.

And finally, it is with great pleasure that I dedicate this year's Southerner to the futures of the 1983 USM graduates.

Last Words...

Man's greatest struggle which leads to man's greatest reward is finding ways to express his individuality. But you will never know this unless you become involved, not with trite, meaningless things just to get through the day. Not by attaching yourself to the fun seekers, for they abuse time; or the money seekers, for their folly is the absence of love. Not with false communication which destroys the bridges of the soul. Not by becoming attached to the normal man for collectively he consumes the most from life and produces the least, creating imbalance.

First become involved with yourself. Then start exploring, for the world of the mind is enormous. You may not discover gold or riches but you should find the individual that is you. The world of the mind is endless. We've mapped so little of the mind! I sometimes feel that is why one fears the unknown territory beyond his tiny world which is already overcrowded, cluttered by habits, and decayed with old ideas. There are ways of life beyond the known world that would amaze you. People, out there, are living them.
